Horse Jumping Exhibition by North Shore Riders Gives Unusual Touch to Winnetka Day Program

Probably the outstanding event of the entire Winnetka Day program was the horse jumping exhibition which was given by four of the North Shore's finest horsemen, John Harnett, Frank Moffitt, C. Otto Ruess and "Chick" Johnson, riding some of the best horses in this country. Costumed in the bright crimson coats, white breeches and boots typical of the sport in old England, the riders added an unusual finishing touch to the afternoon's program as with their mounts they presented a brilliant exhibition of horsemanship, and barrier jumping.

The program, which was presented through the courtesy of the Harnett and Moffitt riding stables in association with Messrs Johnson and Ruess, was arranged by the committee in charge of the celebration as something entirely different from the usual run of events for a like occasion. That it was a decided success in the eyes of the public was clearly set out by the spontaneous and whole hearted expressions of appreciation for the skill of mounts and riders.

Mr. Harnett, who was associated with the Indian Hill Riding club as the club riding master but who is now the owner of the Harnett stables, presented a string of three horses. The first of these, Melwood, has been the winner of over 40 first prizes in jumping contests throughout the United States and was the winner of the national championship at Denver recently. With him was also exhibited The Gibson Girl and Gypsy Queen. The Gibson Girl and Melwood were ridden by their master while the Gypsy Queen was ridden by "Chick" Johnson, who is a trainer of fine mounts.

Kentucky, owned by W. G. Wilfolk, and Trilby, the property of Frank Moffitt, proprietor of the Moffitt Riding academy, was exhibited by Mr. Moffitt. Each of the horses demonstrated beautiful grace and form in taking the barriers and shared equally with the others in the plaudits of the crowd.

Mr. Ruess, was riding his horse, "High Hat," which was awarded two ribbons in the Fort Sheridan Horse show a short time ago. Mr. Ruess is a horse fancier and an amateur rider and High Hat is quite well known in this vicinity for his beauty and brilliant performance.

They Saw No Magic

We are happy. Recently it has been our pleasure to take through our laundry several groups of housewives of the North Shore.

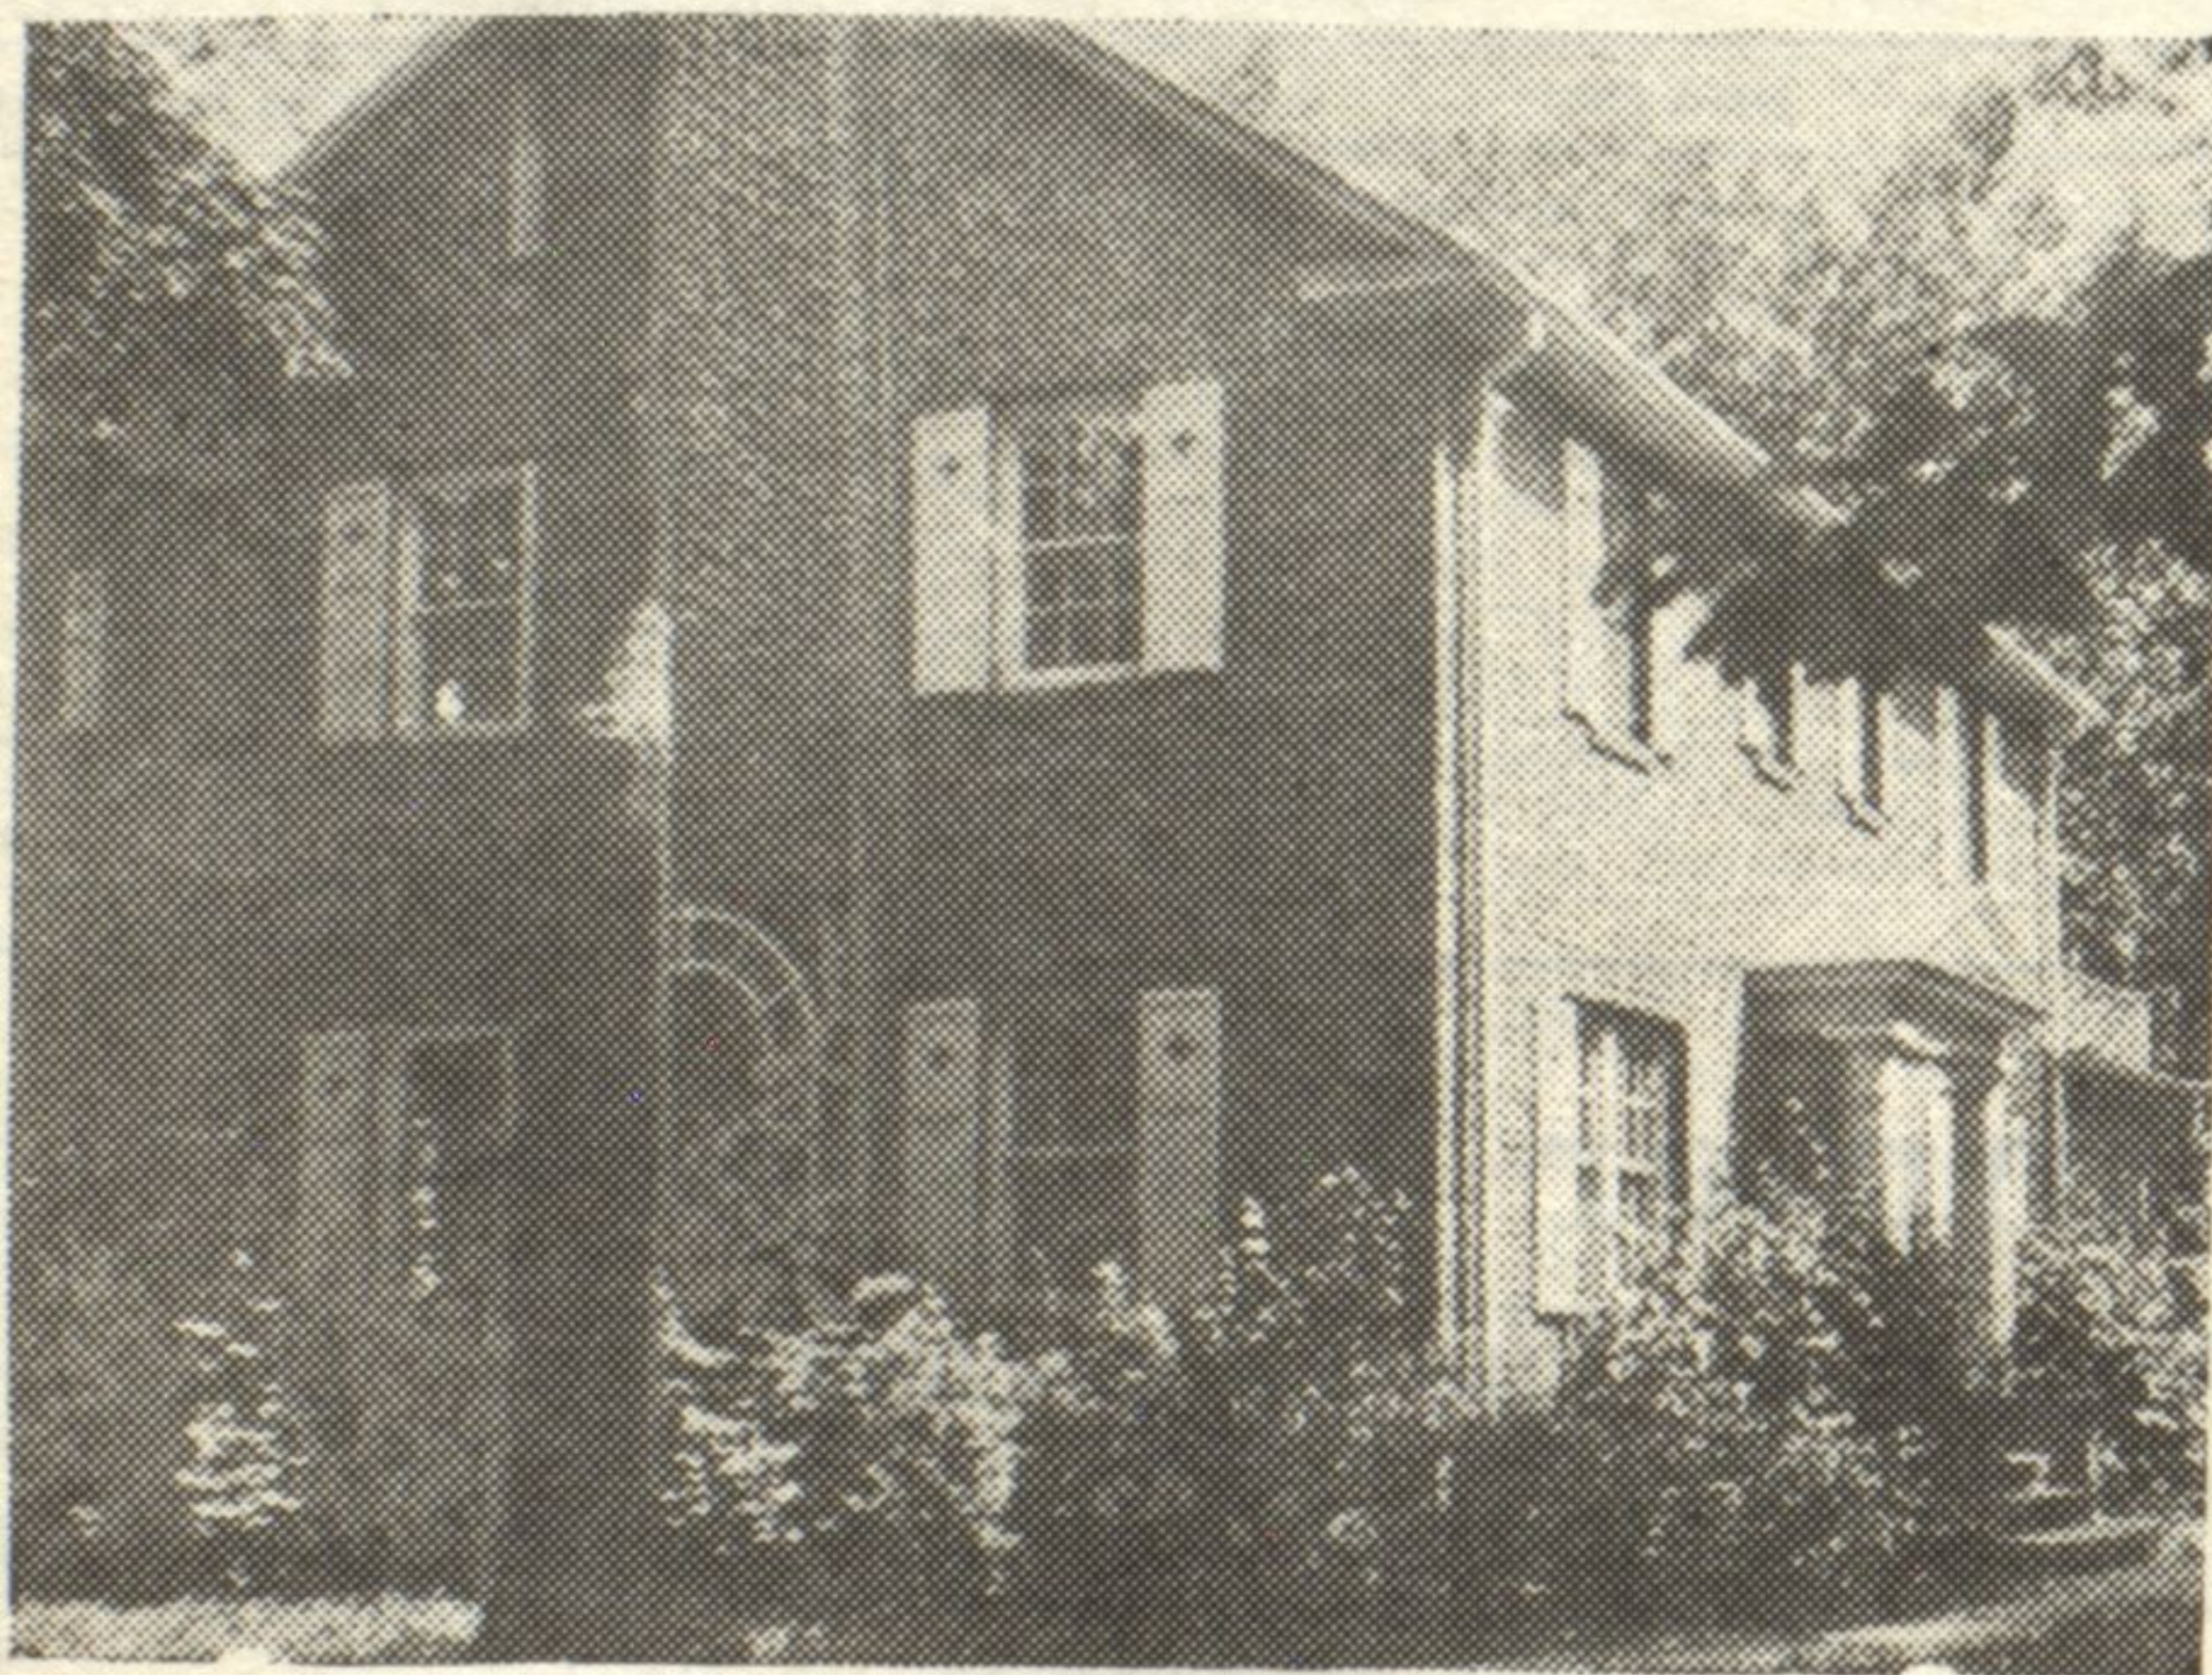

Their reactions were, we believe, favorable. Among them were women who did not "send it to the laundry," but who do now.

They saw no magic used in the laundering of clothes, but the same methods that are used in the home, only on a larger scale, and the same care and supervision that they themselves would use.
