

WORLD CRUISE

from New York
December 2

Palatial Empress of Australia—the dream-ship of cruises. Luxury in its social and private rooms. Luxury in its continental club-like service. Electric baths. Swimming pool. Gymnasium. Deck-sports. All hotel facilities. Classical and dance orchestras... Everything to make life aboard a chief attraction. Every travel detail cared for—on management, ship and shore—the "Wonder Belt of the World." Association and atmosphere most "un-tourish." Membership limited—act quickly.

Somewhere, glittering potentates kneel to sacred gold-tusked elephants. Somewhere, pretty little geishas, and ge-sangs, and houris, smile and flutter oh, so dangerously. Somewhere, a mysterious moon dreams over ancient coliseums, and pyramids, and temples of the past. How can you wait longer to see the treasures of the world? Why should you! Join this cruise deluxe. 133 days, 21 countries, the Mediterranean, Egypt, India—each in its loveliest season.

Max Hayford, former star swimmer at Northwestern university, has been appointed ticket manager at the university to succeed Edward B. Davidson who was promoted to the position of building manager on the McKinlock campus. Mr. Hayford is on duty and already accepting orders for the coming football season.

In keeping with the increased size of the grandstand, fireworks and other free attractions for the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 20-27, are on a much larger scale than heretofore. By an increased expenditure, far greater acts are listed.

Although an extensive mining state, Illinois had the fewest number of major mine accidents during 1926.

Christian Science Church

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 7.

The Golden Text was from Ephesians 5:9, "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting" (Galatians 6:7, 8).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator. If goodness and spirituality are real, evil and materiality are unreal and cannot be the outcome of an infinite God, good." (p. 277).

Coaches Head for Summer Course at Northwestern U.

An unusual hearty response has been received from high school and college coaches by the athletic department of Northwestern university following the announcement of its summer coaching school to be conducted here August 17 to 27. Courses in football, basketball and swimming are to be offered.

Applications for enrollment in the classes have been received from many sections of the country. The all-star football coaching staff that has been assembled for the course has caused much of the interest in the summer session. The staff which is headed by Dick Hanley, now Purple grid coach and exponent of the Warner football system, also includes Jess Hawley of Dartmouth; Arnold Horween of Harvard; Walter Steffen of Carnegie Tech; Duke Dunne, line coach at Harvard and John Schommer, Big Ten football and basketball official. These latter men will give supplementary lectures to Coach Hanley's instruction.

Tom Robinson, the Purple's famous swimming mentor will give an intensive course in swimming and life saving. This is the first time that Coach Robinson has conducted a course for the public. His teams have won the Big Ten title nine times during the last twelve years.

Basketball courses will be given by Arthur Lonberg, head coach at Northwestern and Ted Payseur, freshman coach. The former has used the "Allen" system with great success.

Springfield's business and industrial leaders, experienced hosts to great crowds, are making extensive preparations to handle the influx expected during the week of the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 20-27. The downtown section will be decorated more elaborately than ever before.

Entries for the early closing harness races at the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 20-27, are plentiful, indicating big fields in all these races. Other harness races remain open until August 8, and entries are coming in rapidly, according to Walter W. Lindley, general manager of the fair.
