

JULY GOOD MONTH FOR WILMETTE PERMIT LIST

Twenty-Five New Residences Lead Way in Bringing Grand Total Near $300,000

An analysis of the building permits issued in Wilmette during the month of July reveals one of the most interesting chapters, perhaps, that will be recorded during the present year.

In volume, both as to numbers and valuation of the improvements, the records are gratifying indeed. Forty-four permits were issued during July, representing a total valuation of $298,315, and twenty-five of the forty-four permits were for new residences, representing an investment in buildings alone, of $281,500.

And, following right on the heels of the record $300,000 month of July, comes the first week in August with the splendid showing of five permits totalling $65,000, which includes the new $56,000 WILMETTE LIFE building, on Central avenue across the alley west of the present location of the printing establishment.

Remodeling Season

In addition to the twenty-five July permits for new residences, nine were issued for remodeling residences, totalling $12,500; nine for private garages costing $3,315 and one for a pump house costing $1,000, in King's court, on Glenview road at the Glenayre station of the Skokie Valley Electric line.

Another significant feature of the month's records, especially as pertains to the twenty-five new residences, is the fact that the list includes a large number west of Ridge road. Fourteen of these, all $14,000 homes, are being erected in Pine Crest subdivision, directly west of Ridge road, while another is for a new residence further out in King's court and still another in the United Realty's subdivision, all of which is forceful evidence of the actual beginning of the development of the vast new area annexed but a few months ago to the west of the village.

25 Residence Permits

Permits for the twenty-five new residences were issued as follows:

To B. J. Bruns, 514 Eighth street, $11,500.
