Arthur H. Harrison, Briargate's club champion showed his stuff Wednesday when in the eighth annual Silver Tassel tourney the annual invitation tourney at the North Shore Golf club he romped off with low gross honors. But victory was not easy for Harrison. He had a sturdy and energetic opponent in Frank Snow of the home club and after a hot thirty-six hole session Harrison was the winner by a stroke.

Harrison shot 159 against Snow's 160, thereby pushing Snow down to second place. J. F. Fahey of Lincoln park was third with 162.

E. Whitty won the low net for 36 holes, scoring 181-46-135, and J. M. Whalen was second with a net of 141, and Parnell Egan of the home club third with the same score.

Children Enjoy Very Own Frolic at Vista del Lago

Children's day at the Club Vista del Lago, which marked the formal opening of the new institution to the children of the members last week-end, proved a delightful surprise to north shore people. Attended by some six hundred tots and their parents, the club's Esplanada presented a scene that rivaled in color and gaiety any similar event in the social history on the shore.

Commodore J. Stuart Blackton, the club's head, who is now visiting here from California, gave a short address of welcome to the assembled children. The affair was then turned over to L. C. Simmel, club's executive secretary and former California Scout master, who acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Simmel appeared in Scout uniform which won instant admiration from the children.

Variety of Games

Various children's games, water sports, music, singing, and sleight-of-hand-tricks provided the afternoon thrills which were followed by refreshments served by the club. Mrs. Mellen C. Martin of Winnetka, assisted as hostess and gave out the prizes for the various competitive events.

TAKE CARE OF THE TREES, WHEN BUILDING A HOME

Thomas J. Lynch, Expert, Explains What Damaging Trees Costs

If people who develop into home sites the many prettily wooded tracts which abound on the north shore could bring themselves to the point of appreciation of a tree to the same extent as does Thomas J. Lynch, village forester of Winnetka and north shore tree expert, they could not only save a lot of fine trees which are needlessly ruined but they would also save themselves a lot of time and money in repairing and restoring damaged trees.

Trees, Mr. Lynch points out, are like human beings, they must have water and air to exist, and when a new piece of ground is being graded and the roots of trees are covered over with clay from the excavation for foundations, those elements so essential to the life and well being of the tree are literally shut out from the roots, through which it is fed.

Too Much Carelessness

Carelessness on the part of men grading about the trees is also responsible, he says, for untold damage to mankind's best friend. The bark of the tree is often broken by being gouged by grading tools scraping the trees. Water stands in these bark abrasions and a decaying process starts up which ultimately ruins the tree. Insects of various kinds get into these places and hasten the destruction of the tree, unless prompt attention is given toward repairing such damage.

Before the work of grading is start-bership were J. Hamilton Ritter, Robert Watts, Charley Crocker, and Wheeler Sammons.

ed, the trees, Mr. Lynch says, should be carefully protected, by being boarded up.

Use Gravel Around Roots

If, in bringing a lot to a desired grade it is necessary to cover the surface with clay from the excavation for the house, gravel should be filled in around the roots, or where trees have filling above the roots the dirt should be dug out to the crown of the roots or down to the grade where they originally stood.

NEW APPRAISAL FORM

National Association of Real Estate Boards Seeks to Make Property Appraisals More Accurate

A tentative national standard form of real estate appraisal certificate for the making of appraisals of business property was brought before the delegate body of the National Association of Real Estate boards at its annual convention, held at Seattle, Wash., August 10-13.

The tentative standard form drafted by the appraisal committee of the association was presented to the general membership for their discussion by John P. Hooker, of Chicago, chairman of the committee.

It is hoped by this method to develop a standard form for business property which may be approved and adopted. Subsequently it is planned to develop similarly standard appraisal forms for other types of property.

The proposed standard form has been drafted in such detail as to insure, if followed, a consideration of all the factors which must enter into the making of a complete judgment of real estate value. Adoption of such a standard form is expected to aid greatly in bringing into general use scientific method real estate appraisal procedure. The form will be of value to property owners and to investors in giving them a check on the completeness of the data employed in appraisal.

Use of a proper standard form has been specifically emphasized by the board of directors of the association as of importance in making appraisals of real estate for the issue of real estate bonds, the directors taking the position that the making of a correct unbiased and responsible appraisal is the first essential for the security of such bond issues.
