

GUSTAFSON, LEWIS PURPLE GRID HOPES

Hanley's 1927 Team to Be Built Around Duo of Outstanding 1926 Luminaries

Aside from facing one of the stiffest grid schedules in the conference this fall Coach Dick Hanley, Northwestern's new grid leader, is up against the problem of finding suitable successors to Ralph "Moon" Baker and Bob Johnson, two all-American players who are lost to the squad through graduation.

Both these players performed brilliantly for the Wildcats during the past three years and their absence from the squad will leave two big holes to fill. As quarterback, Baker was the leading spirit of the squad, while Johnson's performance in the line made the Wildcat's forward wall one of the most formidable in the conference. Other capable performers who will not be back are Paul Griffith, Ade Schumacher and James Solheim, halfbacks, and Otto Siebenmann a guard.

On top of the loss of these men Coach Hanley is not expecting his freshman squad of last year to present him much in the way of varsity material. There are a few youngsters, principally backfield men, who will make a strong bid for a regular job, but they are not likely to replace any of last year's regulars.

Coach Hanley is pinning a lot of his hopes for success this fall on his backfield aces, Captain Vic Gustafson and Leland "Tiny" Lewis. In Gustafson the Purple mentor feels that he has one of the best ball carrying backs in the country as well as being an experienced wind kicker. It is believed that he will go far towards replacing Baker.

Leland "Tiny" Lewis, whose performance during the last two years marks him as one of the greatest fullbacks in the country, will be back at his old post again this fall. Besides being a powerful line plunger he is also a capable forward passer and place kicker. He is expected to be a valuable triple threat performer in the Wildcat backfield. Another brilliant player who is expected to hold down a regular job this fall is Walt Holmer. Hanley plans to use him at half where his ability to carry the ball and pass will give the Purple mentor three passing, running and kicking backs. These men will provide a powerful attack which can resort to the air game if necessary.

George "Yatz" Levison, a splendid blocker, who played his first year with the Wildcats last fall is to be given the quarterback assignment this year. While new at the pilot's position Hanley believes that he will fit in nicely with the first string eleven.

CRUMPLES FENDER

The right rear fender of a car owned by Dominic Wiezhicki, of 5410 North Lotus avenue, Chicago, was crumpled, as the result of a collision with a machine owned by R. K. Bigelow, of 4315 Kildare avenue, Chicago, on Sheridan road at Elder lane, Winnetka, Sunday afternoon.

The first radio fire alarm was sent out in Chicago recently, the announcer at the Cubs baseball park telling of a fire nearby. The battalion chief of the district, listening to the report of the game, responded with his men before the regular alarm box was "pulled."

The largest city water pumping station in the world, with a daily capacity of 300,000,000 gallons a day, is at Western avenue and Forty-ninth street, Chicago.

Juvenile County Fair to Feature Palatine Exhibit

A Juvenile County fair for the children of Cook county schools is one of the outstanding features of the Cook County fair which will be held at Palatine, Ill., from September 1 to 5.

When Edward J. Tobin, superintendent of schools, of Cook county, conceived the idea of rural life study on the part of Cook county school children, he increased the production of products by juveniles in the county, which has attracted the attention of the world.

Each child in the county competes with other children for the production of the best vegetables, fruit, poultry, milk, cattle and other farm products.

In addition to the Juvenile County fair, another interesting feature is the Women's Work exposition which demonstrates the progress being made in the home so far as household products are concerned.

Kenilworth Residents Discuss School Issue

More than one hundred residents of Kenilworth attended a meeting at the Kenilworth club, Wednesday evening of last week to discuss the matter of enlarging the Joseph Sears public school, the question being whether the Maher plan of an extension to the north should prevail, or whether, as some contend, the extension should be to the south of the present structure.
