

A Vault of Insurance

Tons of steel and stone have been built into the especially designed vault of this bank.

It is a strong, giant-like structure greater than many vaults which are built for the safekeeping of treasures. All the modern protective features that human ingenuity can devise have been installed.

Surely—here is safety—additional insurance against the loss of your most treasured possessions.

Come in, and give the vault—the trunk room—the storage space—and safe deposit boxes your thorough inspection. They will claim your confidence. Then store your valued pieces here.
