

Lee Says:

EVERY time school OPENS here in WINNETKA we SEE new faces among THE teachers—some CHANGE fields from YEAR to year, while OTHERS change names! BUT whatever may be THE circumstances, WE want to extend OUR cordial greetings TO the teachers THIS year and we HOPE that those who COME to us from out OF town will like WINNETKA as well AS we do, who live HERE all the time. INCIDENTALLY, we WANT to make IT plain to THESE teachers that ADAMS' Pharmacy IS at their service AND we'll be more than PLEASED to have them CALL—we're interested IN our schools and NATURALLY we're INTERESTED in our TEACHERS.

RAPID GROWTH IN RANKS OF NORTH SHORE SCOUTS

Formation of Council Results in Increase of 293 Boys in the Last Year

What does the Boy Scout movement mean on the North Shore? If any one in this area wants to know, let that person scan the record of the Boy Scouts of the North Shore. That record shows that in the last year great progress has been made, and as evidence of the enthusiasm it may be pointed out that that "united front" program of the Scout troops has resulted in a remarkable growth in numbers. The figures show that where a year ago there were 424 scouts there are now a total of 717.

One year ago there were some twenty-one troops in the North Shore area, each operating more or less as individual troops, although affiliated in various ways. The formation of the North Shore Area Council at that time when an office was established at Highland Park to carry on the movement has brought wonderful results as has already been indicated. Scout Executive Walter McPeck has found the Council plan most effective.

Organize New Troops

More than in any year the inter-relationship of the Boy Scouts has been found in the last year to work for betterment. Twelve new troops now are in the process of formation. More than 500 merit badges have already been awarded. But perhaps of greater interest is the fact that troops have been organized where there was no Scouting before.

The progress of Boy Scouting on the North Shore is due to the splendid leadership of the officers of the council, Albert P. Snite of Highland Park, who is president, Dr. Douglas H. Cornell of Glencoe, Dr. George Roberts of Lake Forest, Roy H. Jarrett of Kenilworth, Maurice Mandeville of Lake Bluff, George Harbaugh of Wilmette, Henry Fowler, Walter McPeck and B. C. Draper.

To adequately provide a rich Scouting experience for the boys of the community, many things are necessary. Courts of Honor for the stimulation and recognition of advancement must be maintained. Troops must be effectively organized, with an institution backing and insuring their permanence and effectiveness; camping and outdoor activities must be provided; leaders must be trained and many other angles leading to the enrichment of boy life considered. Committees have been at work on the co-ordination of these problems. The standing committees with their chairmen follow:

The executive board: President, A. P. Snite, Highland Park; vice president, Dr. D. Cornell, Glencoe; vice president, Dr. G. Roberts, Lake Forest; vice president, M. Mandeville, Lake Bluff; vice president, R. W. Jarrett, Kenilworth; treasurer, H. Fowler, Wilmette; Allen I. Wolff, Rev. F. Fitt, Henry P. Pope, Harry Harrison, J. W. Strong, Benj. N. Cox, J. Lightbody, F. Roeber, H. Rhode and Lester Stanton.

Advancement and Court of Honor—Dr. G. B. Lake; Effective Troop Organization—Karl D. King; Civic Relationships and Service—R. Arthur Wood; Camping and Outdoor Activities—Charles A. Steele; Finance and Budget—Henry Fowler; Leadership Personnel and Training—W. A. Bimson; Character through Sea Scouting—H. Warren Shaw, and Good Reading Program—F. G. Pipenbrok.

The greatest asset of any council is its corps of volunteer scoutmasters and assistants, trained and consecrated to the task of boy leadership. These men give of their time and thought and energy in the enrichment of boy them busy men—as a contribution to life. They invest this time—all of the enrichment of American life. These Scout leaders not only feel the importance of their job, but they enjoy it: they feel the thrill of accomplishing a big piece of work. Everything that is done in the inter-troop work of the North Shore Area is done with the thought in mind of strengthening the hand of the volunteer leader.
