

Design Dormitories for New Military School

Pictured above is the architect's perspective of the proposed dormitories for the North Shore Military academy which is to be opened for regular classes on Monday, October 3. The school is located in Niles Center just south of the Evanston Golf club.

The new military academy is sponsored by prominent Chicago and north shore people and is described as most fortunately located with all the natural facilities for unhampered expansion. Establishment of the school, it is explained, is in response to a very definite demand for a military academy on the north shore. Similar schools throughout the United States are putting Chicago and north shore boys on their waiting lists because of lack of facilities and this new school is designed to fill the resultant demand for that character of training.

The faculty of the military academy is to be comprised of graduates of leading eastern universities who have had many years of teaching experience.

M. C. K. Little is president of the school organization; William D. Saltiel is vice-president; Russell L. Furlong is secretary-treasurer.

Dons Russian Garb to Address Eighth Graders

Children of the eighth grade at the Skokie school, who since the resumption of classes two weeks ago have been studying about Russia in their social science work, had the opportunity last Thursday of hearing about the schools and children of that country and of seeing how the peasants dress.

Superintendent and Mrs. Carleton W. Washburne, who, in the course of their travels last summer, went to Russia and visited schools and various places of interest there, appeared before the class in actual Russian costume, Mr. Washburne telling about the Russian people, schools, cities and other matters of interest.
