Christian Science Church

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 25.

The Golden Text was from Lamentations 5:19. "Thou, O Lord, remainest for ever; thy throne from generation to generation."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them. Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance" (Psalms 89:8, 11, 15).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else." (p. 331).

Man renews his faculties every seven years. We cannot account for death except by sin. Were it not for sin, death would never have had a beginning. Were it not for death, sin would never have an ending. Sin debases a man in this life and destroys him in the life to come.

PLAN WINTER SEASON

North Shore Architects to Hear Many Important Speakers

The Evanston-North Shore Association of Architects is planning a busy winter season with monthly dinners and lectures. The program already arranged extends through May. The general subject of the Winter's program is "American Architecture" and speakers of national prominence have been secured.

Prof. Fay Cooper-Cole of the department of anthropology, University of Chicago, will give an illustrated lecture on "Cliff Dwellings and the Early Buildings of the Southwest" at the October meeting, and Prof. Rexford Newcomb of the University of Illinois speaks in November on "Spanish Architecture in America."

The December meeting will be entirely a business session and the January meeting will be addressed by Prof. Joseph Hudnut of Columbia on "Colonial Architecture." "Architecture of the Period, 1850-1876," Thomas Tallmadge speaking, will occupy the attention of the architects in February.

Charles A. Coolidge of Boston will be in Evanston for the March meeting to speak on "The Romanesque Revival" and "The Story of H. H. Richardson." At the April meeting Ernest R. Graham, D. H. Burnham's chief of staff during the construction of the World's Fair in Chicago, will tell about that event, and the May meeting will be devoted to honoring the late Louis H. Sullivan. William L. Steele of Sioux City, one-time associate of the famous Evanston architect, will be the speaker.

Preston Farley of Kenilworth is attending Northwestern university this year and has been pledged Beta Theta Pi.
