

Season Here for Harvest Home Dinner Dances at Clubs

Harvest Parties Close Summer at Our Country Clubs

By JEAN TEN BROECK

Harvest Home dinner dances remain in north shore vogue as media of bidding farewell to the summer season at our shore golf and country clubs. Some of the clubs are celebrating the harvest season earlier than others, but late October will find that they all have had their evening of Hallowe'en celebration. These dinner dances range in variance from the strictly formal to the most informal of hard times parties and society may suit its mood.

Fall activities at Club Vista del Lago will be ushered in with a costume dinner dance this evening. Hallowe'en furnishes the motif for the affair and the pretentious rooms and walks of the club will be specially decorated.

According to the announcement mailed to members "down on the farm" costumes will be worn. Many special entertainment features are on the evening's program, including marshmallow and corn roasts on the beach and a jack o'lantern contest in which the members will vie with each other for prizes for cutting the weirdest faces from pumpkins.

H. W. Albert, the club's new resident manager, who from 1921 to 1926 was manager of the Chicago Yacht club during the regime of Commodore Sheldon Clark, and well known to many north shore people, claims the weather is going to be just right for Saturday night. "Wear warm clothes under the overalls and mother hubbards," he says, "and you will enjoy every moment of the north shore's foremost event of this season."

Sunset Ridge has chosen this evening for its Harvest Home dinner. A special menu has been planned and a seven piece Cope-Horvey orchestra will play for the dancing which will be held out-of-doors if the weather permits.

Indian Hill, too, is celebrating this evening with a Harvest Home dinner dance.

Skokie Country club has set aside Saturday evening, October 29, on its calendar of events, and is planning for an informal dinner and dance.

Her tulle veil was held to her head with a cap of lace, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

The ceremony in the Patterson home in Libertyville, was a very quiet one, attended only by the families of the bride and bridegroom and a few intimate friends. After the ceremony a dinner dance was given for the small group of young people who were guests at the wedding.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Drury, head master of St. Paul's school at Concord, N. H., read the service at 4:30 o'clock before the improvised altar in a bay window screened with maple leaves and smilax, and graced with tall candles and two vases of yellow Fontenelle roses.
