CALLED HOME BY DEATH

Miss Mona Graham, a teacher in the Hubbard Woods school, was called to her home in Glenwood, Iowa, Tuesday afternoon, by the sudden illness of her father. The next day, her friends in Winnetka received a telegram telling them that he had died before she reached Glenwood. The cause of his illness is not known here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Bradstreet are spending the month of October with their son, Brownell Bradstreet, of 259 Church road. They will go to the Orington hotel the first of November for the remainder of the winter months.

Excessive Heat Wave Fatal to Aged Winnetka Visitor

Mrs. William H. Conger died Monday, October 3, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. O. Wilcox, 429 Linden street. She was taken ill during the heat wave last month, and this indisposition, combined with her advanced age, hastened her death. She had reached the advanced age of 81 years.

Mrs. Conger came to Winnetka five weeks ago for a visit with her daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox took the remains to Mrs. Conger's old home at Plymouth, Ind., Tuesday. The funeral was held there on Thursday. Besides Mrs. Wilcox, two sons survive Mrs. Conger.

Lilies Bloom in Fall? Why, Its Natural Time

Roy Zertsel of Chicago has an Easter lily blooming in his garden, which fact, he thinks, indicates confusion in the calendar, since the season is so far removed from Eastertide.

It's not the calendar, but Roy, who is confused, according to one "P. A. H." who writes in the name of the Wilmette Garden club, and here are the facts:

Some varieties of lilies are forced to bloom in April for the "trade." At their earliest opportunity they will return to their natural habit of blooming in late summer.

And a suggestion:

Put your Easter lilies in the ground when they are through blooming and they will come up in the fall and bloom again. With a very little protection they will live through the winter like any perennial.

Mrs. C. Fay Roberts entertained on Friday of last week at luncheon and bridge at her home, 126 Chestnut avenue, Winnetka, in honor of Mrs. Park Michener of Pasadena, Cal., who is the guest of Mrs. W. Gordon Bird of 730 Elmwood avenue. There were sixteen guests.
