

Why are Georgian Meals so Delicious?

Because each chef in the kitchen gives his individual attention to that which is his specialty—soups, sauces, meats, pastries.

Because Jules, Chef de Cuisine, second to none, supervises the blending of each dish and plans those menus for which we have become famous.

Because the Dining-room is so exquisitely appointed and so expertly serviced that it is a delight to dine here.

Dick Prepares Wildcats for a Busy Afternoon

A number of seats for the Illinois-Northwestern game are on sale at the ticket office at Dyche stadium, it was announced by Max Hayford, ticket manager. Contrary to previous reports, the tickets for this game have not all been sold and early arrivals at the ticket office will be able to secure tickets.

Coach Dick Hanley's Wildcat gridgers are being put through some strenuous practice sessions this week in preparation for what is expected to be a busy afternoon this Saturday when Utah invades Dyche stadium for the second game of the season.

Although successful in the opening encounter with South Dakota last Saturday, Coach Hanley was far from satisfied with his charges and is working at top speed to get them in shape for the more important contests.

Much the same line-up as started last week's game will be used to open Saturday's engagement. Holmer is expected to start at right half instead of Calderwood who has been shifted back to fullback.

The Purple attack will, of course, center around the backfield aces, Capt. Vic Gustafson and Tiny Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kreger and their family have moved from their home of 717 Willow road into a new home at 516 Meadow road.

New Trier Eleven to Play LaGrange Team This Saturday

Having defeated the Fenger High school eleven on the local field in the season's opening grid tilt last Saturday by the decisive score of 44 to 6, the New Trier eleven was polishing off its defects this week in preparation for the LaGrange game which will be the bill for this Saturday afternoon.

While the LaGrange team is expected to be somewhat more formidable than the Fenger eleven, local dopesters have the game casually on ice and are confident that it will "slip" according to schedule. The game will be played on the local field.

Playing in a drizzling rainfall throughout the better part of the game, New Trier handed Fenger its second defeat of the season. The ball was in New Trier's possession most of the time and the locals gave every evidence of having an attack and defense varied enough for a first game to warrant predictions of an entirely favorable season.

BAHAI LECTURES

A rare treat awaits the audience in the studio of Louis Bourgeois, 536 Sheridan road, Wilmette, at 3 p. m., Sunday, October 9, when Dr. Albert R. Vail will deliver an address on "The Greatest Spiritual Masterpieces of Modern Times." The public library and reading room at 112 Linden avenue, Wilmette, is open daily; Edward D. Struven, the caretaker, will take pleasure in explaining the symbolism of the temple and furnishing desired literature, it is explained.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bisson, formerly of 1111 Gage street, Hubbard Woods, have taken an apartment at 811 Judson avenue, Evanston.
