

Wilmette Building Is Slow in September But October Outlook Good

September was the banner month for building private garages in Wilmette, according to the eighteen permits issued for this type of building during that period.

There were only two permits for residences and nine for remodeling contracts, the total cost of the improvements authorized by the 29 permits being $30,435.

The month of October, however, started out with a far better showing, with permits for four houses issued during the first three days of this month, at a cost of $39,000.

Three of these houses, each costing $10,000, are to be located on Third street, just south of Maple, where Sam Gordon is preparing to build.

On the first day of October a permit was issued to William Balmes for a $9,000 residence at 2028 Wilmette avenue.

One of the permits issued in September was to Harry Barnhill, for a stone veneer residence at 1323 Ashland avenue, to cost $11,000.

The other was to Alfred Patzell, for a $15,000 residence at 1500 Forest.

The Equitable Trust Company of New York is the first American office building using super-glass, which was invented in England. This glass permits the passage of the healthful ultra violet rays of the sun to enter. Several hotels, however, are using this glass.

New Houses in Pine Crest Now Ready for Inspection

Niels Buck and company, architects and builders, of 3123 North Clark street, Chicago, and with offices in Wilmette at 519 Ridge avenue are rapidly bringing to completion the ten fine brick residences which they started a few months ago in Pine Crest, on Ridge, at Highland avenue.

On the pretty Spanish type house, nearest Ridge, is displayed a large banner, "All Open for Inspection." The houses are sufficiently completed to permit their being shown to prospective buyers, and many people have visited them during the past few days, the company reports.

One of the houses has already been sold.

Building Slows Down in Kenilworth in September

Only five building permits were issued in Kenilworth during the month of September. Two of these were for new residences, one costing $11,500, the other $10,000; two were for remodeling jobs costing $2,350 and one was for a $500 garage, a total of $24,350.

The permits for the new residences were issued to James Crabb, of Wilmette, for a two story brick veneer residence and detached two car frame garage at 547 Brier street, costing $10,000.

The other permit was issued to H. O. Barnes for a two story frame residence and attached one-car garage at 717 Virginia avenue, costing $11,500.
