

BARRINGTON

A Region of Rare Beauty

Where Small Acreage Tracts Offer New Delights of Living

The city's excitement belongs to the business man's working day. In the evening he is rested by the beauty of a rural landscape—a bird's song—tranquillity. Unbounded freedom is his in a country home. And while he works, he knows his family is safe and happy.

Country comforts are found in their most ideal state at Barrington—only 44 minutes from Chicago's loop. Hunting, riding and golfing are part of the life in this beautiful, secluded community. Woodland trails encourage walking. Paved roads give direct access by motor to the city, the northern suburbs and nearby lakes, where boating and fishing are good.

Barrington was once devoted exclusively to large country estates. Now smaller acre tracts are available in this desirable region. Developments are under way. Quinlan & Tyson, having studied the real estate situation here for years, believe this is a most favorable time to buy—for residence or investment.

Nor information concerning Barrington's future is contained in our booklet, "In Greater Chicago—Where to Live." Gives facts and figures on entire North Shore. Get your copy free, and consult us further in regard to Barrington acreage. Call, phone or write.
