

N. T. DECIDED FAVORITE IN WHITING GAME TODAY

Fandom Predicts Easy Win for Local Grid Team as Indiana
Eleven Arrives

With two weeks of intensive work on the perfection of both offensive and defensive play now in the background, what is considered as one of the strongest teams in New Trier High school history will face the Whiting, Ind., eleven this afternoon deciding the favorite. Defects in the operation of both line and backfield, noticeable in the Waukegan tilt on October 15, were no longer apparent when the final practice was held this week. Line plunging, passing and team work appeared much smoother and unless the unforeseen occurs, New Trier should emerge the victor in today's game by a wide margin.

Whiting is not expected to prevent a very formidable line-up and it is anticipated that Coach Aschenbach will withhold any great versatility in attack as a precaution against the eyes of spies for Deerfield Shields or Evanston, with whom games are scheduled in coming weeks. Whiting in previous seasons has presented a team consistently heavier than the local outfit and it is possible that the New Trier line may find the "going rough" this afternoon.

A fast backfield with a concentrated interference and a sharp aerial attack should, however, prove sufficient to carry the local gridders to a safe lead within the first two periods.

The line-up will probably be the same as that started against Waukegan, except that Miller will replace Holloway at right tackle, while Hoagland will remain out. Markley and Huffman will appear at ends. Besides Miller, "Slim" Rossiter will play at tackle. Both are heavy, although Miller's long absence from the team, due to injury to his hand, may slow him up. Captain Bob Sweet and Weinecke have the guard positions, with Bennett at center. In the last game, Waukegan tried many rushes through the center of the line, but seldom made more than a couple of yards.

Hunter Hicks will call signals. Nelson and Baker, who have made most of the gains for the Grey and Green in the three games played to date, will start the game at half, with Richards back at his old place at fullback.

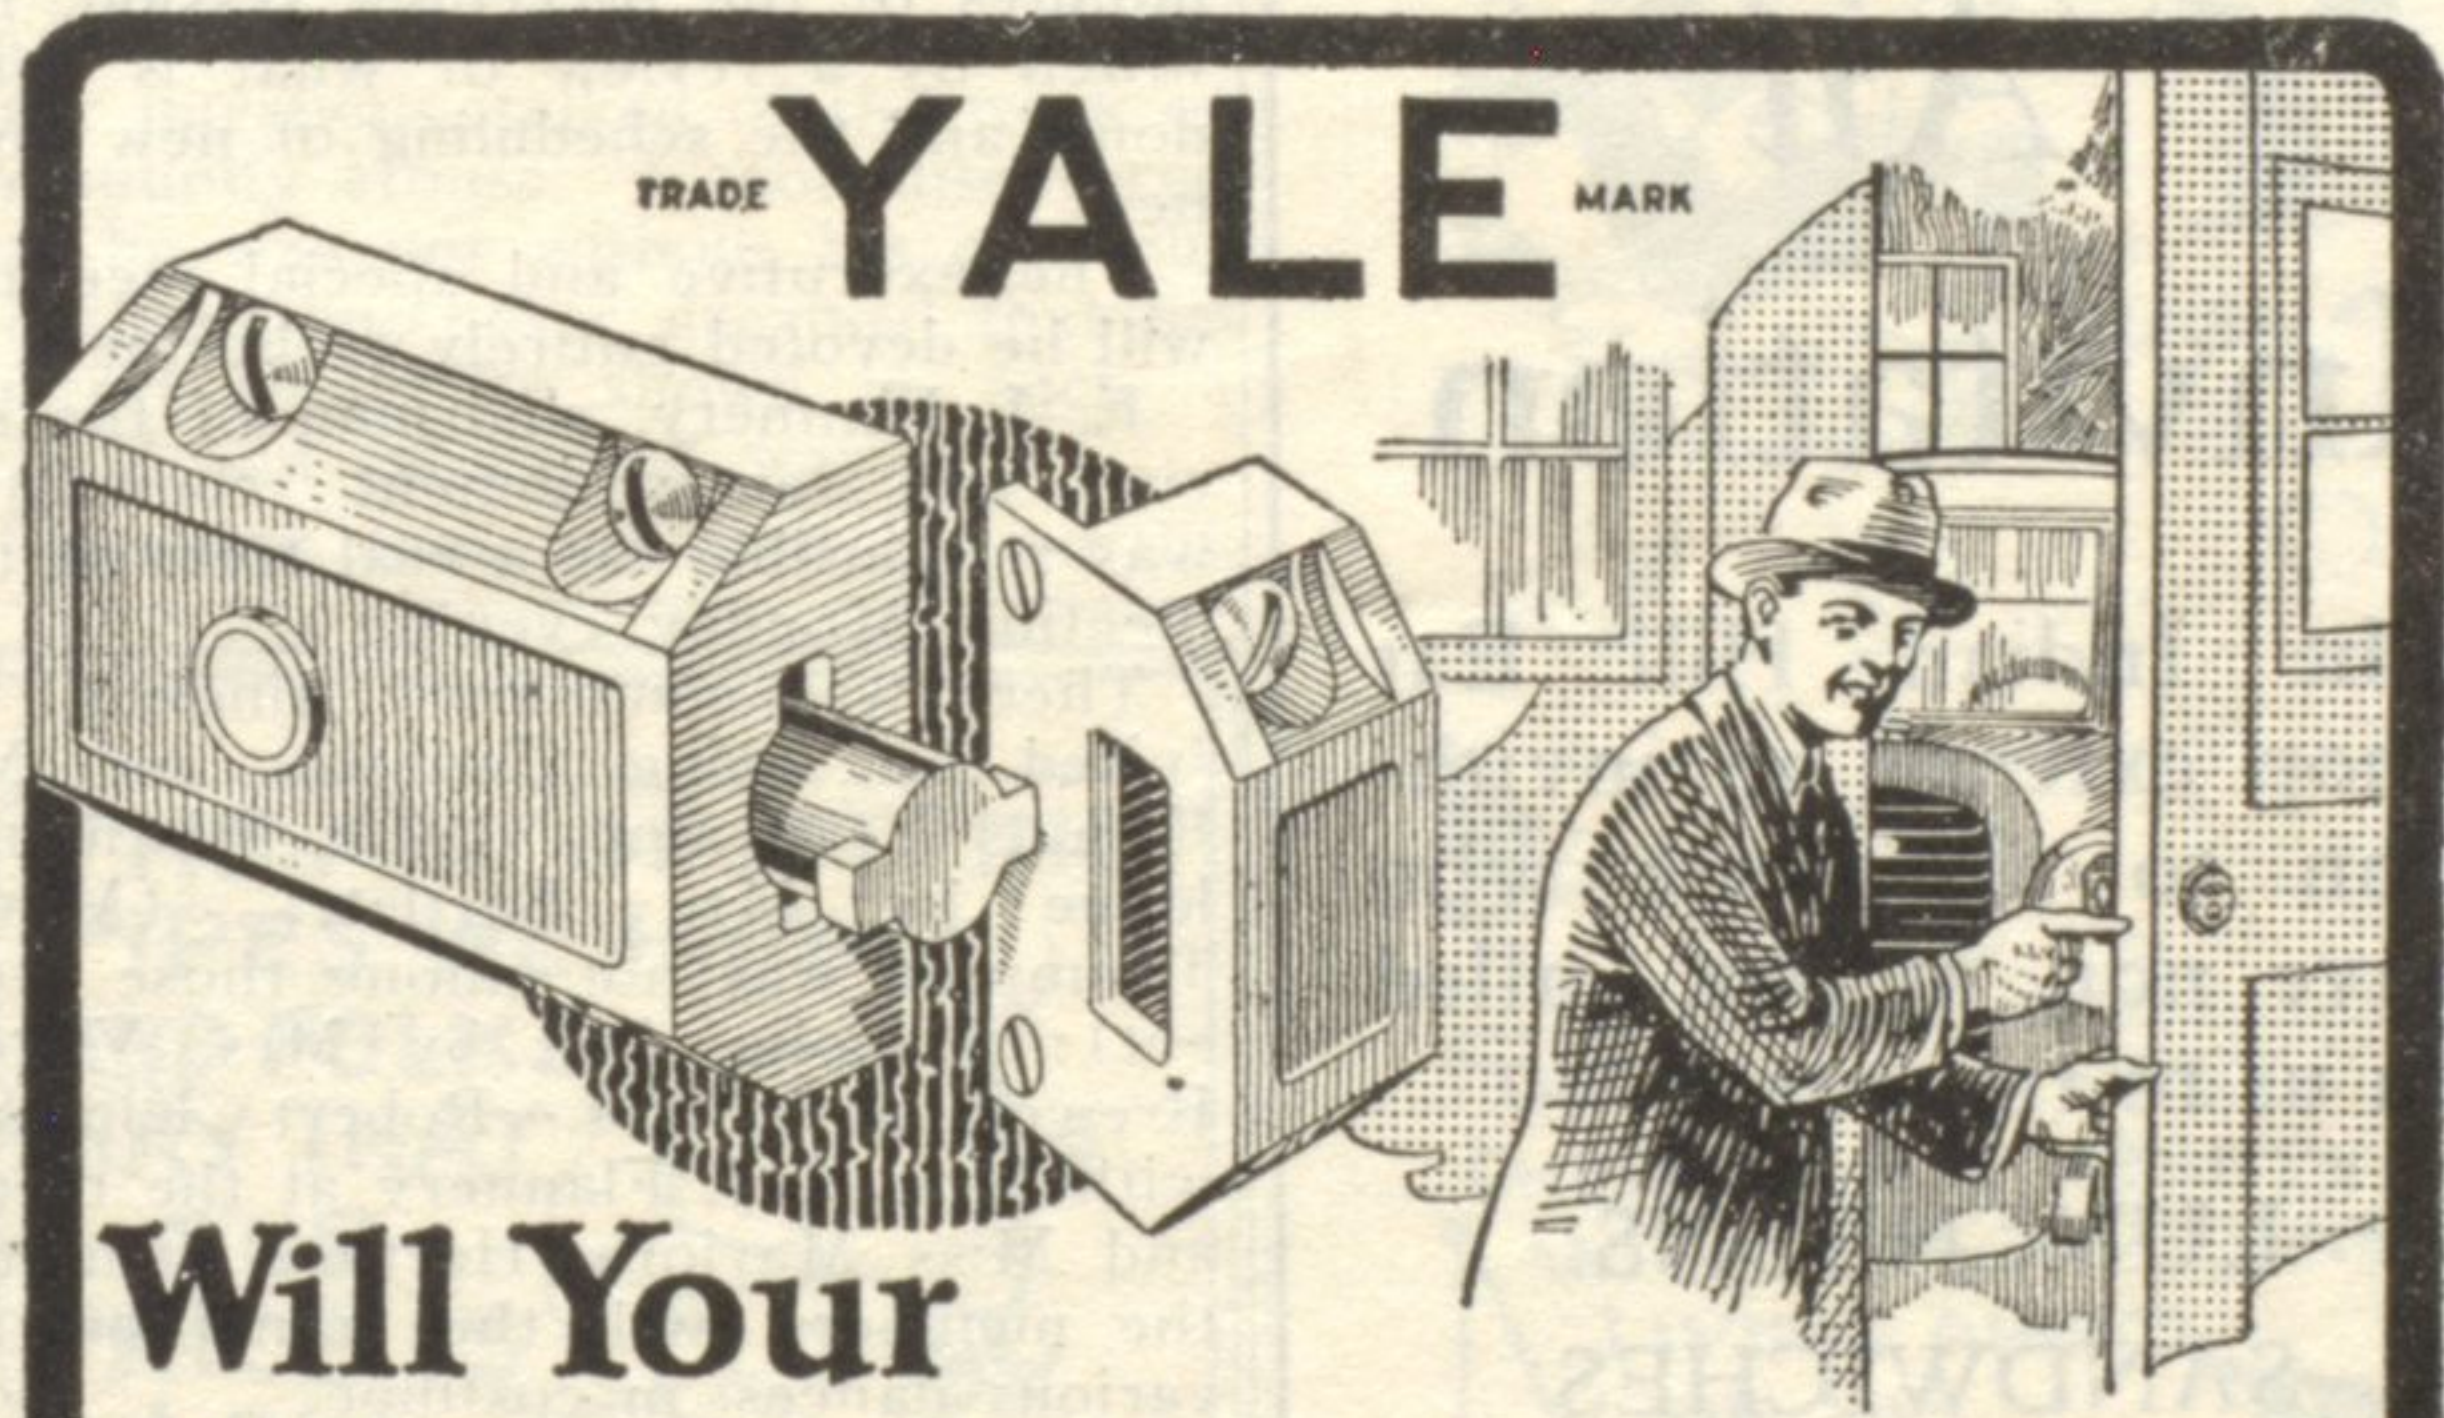

Greeley School Entertains Faculty of Other Schools

All of the members of the faculties of the Winnetka schools were entertained by the Greeley school P. T. A. last Wednesday night at a Hallo-wen party that took the form of a typical old fashioned country dinner and dance. Decorations had been put up about the school auditorium and other rooms and in this fitting atmosphere the guests were seated to a meal prepared and served by the parents of the children attending the Greeley school.

A six piece dance orchestra had been retained for the occasion and a program of modern and old time dances was run off to the accompaniment of a medly of both old time and popular airs. Bridge tables had also been erected and prizes arranged for those not wishing to dance.

Washburne Tells Hubbard Woods Pupils of Russia

Pupils of the Hubbard Woods school were given an opportunity to see how the peasants of Russia dress and heard many interesting things about the schools, customs, and people of that country last Wednesday during the assembly period when Supt. and Mrs. Carleton Washburne appeared garbed in true Russian clothes and told of their visit in Russia during the past summer.

Will Your Car Be There in the Morning?

THOUSANDS of cars are stolen or "borrowed" from private garages every day. Your car may be the next one taken.

Put a Yale new No. 192K Rotary Bolt Deadlock on your garage door and you will find your car in its place in the morning.

The Yale No. 192K with its hardened steel rotary bolt, locks the door and jamb together so that they cannot be jimmied apart.

Ask for a Yale No. 192.

It has a solid brass case and jamb plate.
