Diagnosis, Treatments Nov. 1

The North Shore Osteopathic Children's clinic will open Tuesday, November 1, in suite 210 of the Studio building, 1718 Sherman avenue, Evanston. Clinics will be held each Tuesday and Friday from 4 to 6 with five physicians in charge each day.

Twenty-four doctors are supporting the clinics and will receive all types of cases. Dr. D. D. Waitley, president of the North Shore Osteopathic society states that any child up to 12 years of age wishing any service is asked to report at the hours named above or telephone University 6735 or Greenleaf 1533. The Central Association of Evanston Charities, the Woman's club, churches and other organizations will be asked to co-operate with the society in recommending children for attention at the clinics.

All children will be required to complete a physical examination before any treatment will be begun, states Dr. Waitley, in order that a successful and accurate diagnosis may be reached. Diagnosis is the keynote of the whole treatment, he says.

The Chicago Osteopathic hospital will co-operate with the clinic and all orthopedic cases will be transferred to the Chicago hospital where one of the surgeons interested in the Evanston clinic will take the case in charge.

A group of 24 men have given their support and time to the clinic with no outside help. Equipment has been installed in the Sherman avenue suite which is not yet as complete as the society wishes to make it. But the laboratory is well equipped.
