

MOSQUITO BATTLE LINE GRADUALLY EXTENDING

Petitions With Necessary Signatures for Special Election Completed; Hearing Nov. 10

A hearing on the petition for a special election to authorize a tax of the necessary funds for conducting the organized warfare on mosquitoes on the north shore, has been set for hearing November 10, at 10 o'clock.

The North Shore Mosquito Abatement association, which has been engaged during the past several weeks in obtaining signatures to the necessary petitions for this election, completed their work last week and filed the petitions with County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, Monday. The judge set the hearing for the foregoing date, and in the meantime, the association is proceeding with other preliminary steps to forward the work.

Mosquito abatement districts have been formed and financed in this manner throughout Cook and adjoining counties, an organized and scientific warfare against the little pest which it is said, spells his ultimate doom here.

BANDS LIVE IN GRIDIRON

Music Makers of Two Schools Delight Dyche Stadium Crowd

The Illinois and Northwestern bands, with their colorful uniforms, excellent marching and stirring music, drew the applause of the vast throng of nearly 50,000 football fans who jammed Dyche stadium Saturday to see Zuppke's men nose out the Wildcats by a single point.

One hundred and sixty Illini bands-men were in Evanston for the occasion, their dark blue uniforms with long overcoats and orange lined capes contrasting with the royal purple worn by the 115 Northwestern tooters. Both bands paraded before the game and during the halves, going through difficult evolutions.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carlsen of 501, Washington avenue had as their guests last week-end, Chester Richards of Redonda Beach, Cal., and Tom Casey of Akron, Ohio. They attended the Northwestern-Illinois football game Saturday afternoon.

Football fans attending games at Northwestern or Chicago Universities will find North Shore Line train service advantageous. Both before and after all games, trains operate frequently and on convenient schedules. To reach Dyche Stadium (Northwestern University), leave "Shore Line" trains at Central Street, Evanston. To reach Stagg Field (University of Chicago), leave trains at Randolph and Wells, Chicago, and take Rapid Transit Line "Jackson Park" trains from same platform to 63rd and University.

Landscaping along the beautiful SKOKIE VALLEY

NEW communities taking form along the Skokie Valley have been painstakingly laid out by competent landscape architects. The beauties Nature has lavished on this favored section are being added to by the hand of man!

Perhaps it is as well that the Skokie Valley was never served by transportation until the North Shore Line opened its Skokie Valley Route. For now, with all the newer knowledge of community and home-building, it is possible to create, here, truly ideal communities. That, in fact, is what is being done.

Virtually adjoining the thickly-populated North Shore communities, this Nature-favored territory affords all modern home conveniences—sewer, water, electricity, gas, telephone, paving.

If you have friends or relatives seeking a home site on the North Shore—or if you are yourself looking for a larger plot on which to build—there is one logical place to turn; "the newer North Shore," the beautiful Skokie Valley, with its high-speed, electrically-operated transportation and its constantly-growing property values.
