Reviews

At the North

GLENCOE MOVIES

"Bardely's the Magnificent," a John Gilbert picture taken from Sabatine's novel by the same name, will be presented next Friday afternoon at the Glencoe Union church. While the film story doesn't follow the plot of the original as closely as it might, it is nevertheless an interesting drama based on early French history.

Wesley Barry, who left pictures some time ago for vaudeville and marriage, will play a jockey in "In Old Kentucky."

Al Grets N. U. Students in Stage Program Next Week

"Hello Northwestern." Al Kvale officially welcomes the student body of Northwestern university next week in his stage show to be called "Hello Northwestern."

The spirit of the great Evanston school is to be embodied in the production. The purple banners will flutter over the theater and on the stage Al and his collegian orchestra will offer a mad melange of college songs and a speedy brand of entertainment that exemplifies the school spirit.

The Wisnar Sisters, popular Northwestern co-eds who recently made their debut at the Oriental theater, will be featured in the show. The girls are attending school at present, spending their evenings in theater work.

Young, vivacious talent will abound in the show. Peggy Bernier, Chicago's favorite comedy singer, Jack North and his palpitating banjo, The Dean Brothers, dance start and and harmony duo, Meighan and Newman will complete the list of stage talent.

Added to the program will be the newest film novelty in sport events. "The Forward Pass," a complete screen lesson in the art of performing the popular football plays as supervised by Grantland Rice, will be shown. Aspiring football stars and fans of the game will find the film exceptionally interesting.

In the spirit of the college week, the feature will be the hilarious comedy of co-ed campus life, "Swim, Girl, Swim," in which Bebe Daniels performs at her funniest. Gertrude Ederle is in the cast.

Douglas Fairbanks is considering doing Dumas' adventure romance, "Twenty Years Later," a sequel to "The Three Musketeers."

Mix, Meighan and Mulhall in Lead Roles at Teatro

"Tom Mix ascends to new heights in 'Silver Valley,'" remarks an unknown humorist in a release review of this Fox production which is to be featured by Teatro del Lago this Saturday. And "Sir Funnysides" quotes truly, whether he was speaking of the physical, literal or of plain screen accomplishment. Tom has been broken to the air and in "Silver Valley" bestrides one of Lindy's "cast-iron swallows." As the kid brother might remark, "Tom gets tired of a horse, gets 'im a plane; sees the fair lady in distress and gets the 'drop' on the bandits." Which is to explain in very few words the action of this westerner and not omit that it is a nice film.

"We're All Gamblers" is not the biggest picture that Thomas Meighan has produced but it's one that you will like. To tip you off, it starts with the star as a waif on a dock on New York City's East river. A policeman picks him up to keep him from freezing and takes him to an Irish lady who follows Bible instructions and "takes the stranger in." He reaches manhood and becomes a contender for the heavyweight championship. An automobile accident prevents him from trying for the title and he eventually becomes the proprietor of a night club. And that is enough for you to know now. It's for Sunday.

"One Woman to Another," the bill on Monday and Tuesday, is good comedy pure and simple. Florence Vidor plays the lead which, added to the plot, makes the picture a nice production. It deals with a girl's blasted love affair and her plot to force the man to marry her. Plenty of laughs and fast action.

Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran team together to produce "Publicity Madness" which will be shown no Wednesday. The picture is a comedy-drama and is a clever, swift moving production. Lowe plays the role of Pete King, a salesman whose ideas are exceeded only by his egotism and "crust." Lois Moran steps out of her dainty old fashioned roles and has her hair bobbed right in the picture to become a modern stenographer. She turns out to be the boss' daughter and adds a few twists to Lowe's affairs.

"Smile, Brother Smile," with which Teatro will close the menu on Thursday and Friday, is another film you will like. It is a delightful light comedy, splendidly played by Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill and the supporting cast, without a dull moment between the opening, when Jack is discovered as a shipping clerk and the final fadeout, when all of the various problems are ironed out. Dorothy is a pert little telephone operator.

COMMUNITY HOUSE

The "Red Raiders," a Ken Maynard picture, will be presented at Community House, Winnetka, next Tuesday as the feature picture for the afternoon program. The picture is a typical Maynard film and a splendid western picture. In addition, the first installment of "Blake of Scotland Yard" will also be presented.

On Friday afternoon, November 4, "The Covered Wagon" will be the attraction. This production is being shown at the special request of a number of patrons and is undoubtedly one of the most outstanding of the historical or semi-historical pictures produced in the past few years.
