SATIRE ON AMATEURS DRAMA CLUB OFFERING

"The Torch Bearers" Promises Riot of Hilarity When Presented November 9-10

George Kelly's satire on amateur theatricals, entitled "The Torch Bearers," the season's first offering of the Community Drama club, to be presented at the Winnetka Community House, November 9 and 10, includes in its cast the names of many who have appeared before in local productions.

There will be Donald Morrison in the role of Frederick Ritter, a man who has been widowed by his wife's activities in a small town drama club. This is a part which should win great sympathy among similarly widowed husbands of Winnetka. The prodigal wife, who would rather have her acting appreciated than her biscuits, wil be portrayed by Mrs. William Gold Hibbard, III.

Typical Caricature

In the play within a play which forms the central episode of "The Torch Bearers," the usual characters appear that are familiar to everyone who has taken part in amateur pre ductions. The heartless director, who spares no one's feelings when Art i at stake, the leading man, who has his moments of temperament, the stage manager who never finds anything when it is needed-all these will be pitilessly caricatured by people who are themselves the target of their own satire.

Mrs. William Ogden Coleman plays the part of Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli, the major-domo of the proceedings. furnishings in the Ritter home to get | zoning of Manus Indian Hill subdivileading man and matinee hero of the local 400, Huxley Hossefrosse, will be undertaken by Barret Conway.

Busy Stage Manager

E. J. Flannery will be the stage manager, whose responsibilities are heavier, for one night, than a prohibition director's. The parts of Messrs. Spindler, Twiller and Spearing, three enthusiastic thespians who contrive to add to the general confusion, will be taken by Alfred Freeman, Lyman L. Weld, and the Rev. Malcolm R. Ward.

Other members of the troupe are Mrs. Nelly Fell, a perennial ingenue, who is a constant worry to the wives of the neighborhood; Mrs. Clara Sheppard, deprived of the leading part by the untimely and ill-considered demise of her husband the night before the play, and Miss Florence Mc-Crickett, the misunderstood wife, who is called upon for some "heavy" emotional work. These parts will be interpreted by Mrs. Getrude Thurston, Miss Mary Harding, and Mrs. Malcolm R. Ward. Emma Rummler, as Jenny, the Ritters' maid, completes the cast.

Mrs.John Marshall Directs

Marshall directs the local production.

Guild Player

Mrs. S. P. Perry of Wilmette is to have the leading feminine role in the forthcoming North Shore Theater Guild production of A. A. Milne's comedy, "The Romantic Age." CHURCH SEEKS TO HAVE CHINA POLICY ALTERED

Winnetka Congregational Church Asks National Board to Confer With State Department

It is generally known that for some time the Winnetka Congregational church has been considering what it can do to help improve the conditions of missionaries working in China. Last Sunday morning the Rev. Paul R. Reynolds, who is the church's representative in China, came from New York and spoke at the morning service, and in the afternoon at a special meeting the church passed the following resolution:

"To the Members of the Prudential Committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions:

"The members of the Winnetka Congregational church, believing that a crisis exists in our missionary work in China, and that without radical changes in the conditions governing this work, its success is greatly hampered, if not made impossible, submit herewith the following requests:

Seek Altered Policy

"We ask that the American Board Mr. Lichtenberger, who was Professor societies having headuarters in this of Economics at Boone, was present country to ask of the Government of during the siege of Wuchang in the the United States such a modification to leave after he had lost all his earthly China as that those who desire to possessions. At present he is taking work in the interior of China and who a degree at Harvard and expects to re- also desire to avail themselves of this turn to China as soon as he is able. His modification may be given diplomatic position as a teaching missonary in the protection without the application or as promote good will in personal and official relations.

"In case that the American Board finds it impossible to secure the joint action here suggested, we ask that the American Board itself and without deiay request such change of practice on the part of the government.

Oppose "Toleration Clauses"

"Furthermore, we ask that the American Board, jointly or alone, express again to the government of the United States its earnest hope for a speedy revision of the treaties existing between this government and China, and particularly for an abrogation of those portions of previous treaties generally known as the 'toleration clauses.'

"Adopted at a meeting of the congregation of the Winnetka Congregational church, October 30, 1927."
