Illini Takes on Maroons in Dad's Day November 12

Another great football battle will be fought in the Illinois stadium this Saturday when Chicago, traditional foe of the Illini, comes for the last home game.

Saturday is Dad's Day and elaborate arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the fathers of students who will visit the campus and watch the game. A crowd of 60,000 is expected. However, the Illini announce that tickets will surely be available at the gates Saturday.

Illinois students and alumni love to meet Chicago. Since 1892 the Maroons have been almost annual and always intense rivals of Illinois on the gridiron and the game will be the thirty-second meeting in a series in which Chicago has triumphed 16 times, Illinois winning 12, while three were ties. There has been some dispute concerning the first three games played, due to the eligibility rules or lack of rules at that early date, but according to the records, Stagg has a 16 to 12 margin over the Illini.

However, since Bob Zuppke has been in charge at Illinois, he has won eight and lost four with the Maroons, two being tie games.

Award Trophies at Annual Dinner for Northwestern Golf

Members of the Northwestern Golf club held their annual banquet at the North Shore hotel, Evanston, Thursday, November 3, Oscar Schmidt, county commissioner, Chic Evans, county golf architect, and John Reuter, Jr., Northwestern pro, were the guests of the evening.

After the dinner the championship cups for the 1927 season were awarded by President Voorheis to the following winners:

The Club Championship cup, donated by Triangle Sporting Goods company, to Walter Woodward, Chicago.

The President's cup, donated by The Hub (George Lytton company). The president gives the winner of this event a special cup which was won by Ralph Hayden of Evanston. This cup remains the property of the club.

The Speed trophy, donated by Charles F. Speed, builder of Northwestern Public Links, to Ralph Hayden of Evanston.

The Ladies' Championship cup, donated by The Fair Department Store, to Mrs. J. J. Milligan.

Many prizes were distributed each month during the season, as there is a tournament every Saturday and Sunday. These prizes are awarded at the time won.

After the distribution of prizes interesting talks were given by Commissioner Schmidt, Golf Architect Chic Evans and John Reuter.

Mr. Evans spoke regarding the many improvements that will be made on the course during 1928 to put it in shape for the 1929 National Championship for Public Links which, no doubt, would be played in Chicago.

Commissioner Schmidt assured the members of the Northwestern Golf club that they would enjoy the privilege during 1928 that they had enjoyed in the past. He also assured the members that many improvements would be made to the clubhouse to make it up to date in every way.

H. M. Bachman, chairman of the membership committee, says it looks like a big season for 1928. Applications are to be made to Mr. Bachman, 1249 Maple avenue, Wilmette.

Parents Get Glimpse of New Trier Class Sessions

The parents of the freshmen and sophomores of New Trier High school attended classes with their sons and daughters at the annual big P. T. A. meeting Wednesday, November 2, while the upper classmen enjoyed a holiday. The meeting began at 1:45 o'clock and continued until 9 o'clock. During this time regular classes were held so that the parents could see the inner workings of the school and could have a glimpse firsthand of the work their children were doing.

After the classes there was a general meeting in the auditorium. Thursday, November 17, the juniors and seniors will escort their parents to school.

The Washington Laundry is particular about our washing

I was always skeptical about having our washing done in a laundry—most likely, because my Mother was—until one day a representative of the Washington Laundry called. He explained the manner in which clothes were laundered in his plant. He asked that I give his work a trial, and advised me to use the Prim Prest service.

The trial convinced me. Everything was returned promptly, sweet and clean, finished as though I had personally supervised the work. Now week in and week out I receive the same satisfactory work
