Wally's Golf Hints

Editor's Note: Following is the second of a series of golf lessons written by Wally Chamberlain, professional at Glen-coe Golf course and head of the North Shore Golf school, Winnetka, in which, from week to week will be presented many helpful hints for those who are just taking up the game of golf, as well as those who have been playing for some time but admit the need for improving their game.

By Wally Chamberlain

The grip is another one of the very important things and should be given a good deal of attention. First, let your arms hang naturally at your side. You will notice that the "V" formed by the thumb and base of the forefinger of each hand faces in.

Put your left hand on the club ex-actly as it hangs, holding it almost en-tirely in the fingers. This should bring the thumb on the back of the shaft and the "V" mentioned before should point to the right shoulder. The right hand should then be placed on the shaft with the little finger overlapping the first finger of the left hand, and the "V" pointing to the right shoulder also. The thumb of the left hand fits snugly into the hollow in the palm of the right hand, and the whole grip on the club is se-cure. Do not hold too tightly, and let both hands work together.

There are several other grips which are probably as good, but, for the ma-jority of players, this is the easiest and best, and is used by most of the good players of today.
