Learn New Games

The bi-monthly conference of boy officers of scout troops of the South End Section of the North Shore Area Council will be held next Saturday morning, November 19, at the Kenilworth school. The main features of the program will be a forty-minute period on fun craft in which R. W. Townley, scoutmaster of the invincible troop 13, will teach the boys some new games to take back to their troops and another fun craft period in which W. Ted Grant, Field Scout Executive, will teach the scouts some new wrinkles on songs and song leading. The entire program is set up on the basis that boy leaders of the various troops will find helps to take back to the rest of their troops.

Over three million copies of the Boy

Scout Handbook have been sold during the last eighteen years. It has been the encyclopedia for boy information for millions. It has been added to and changed from time to time, but because of its basic soundness it has served through all the years since scouting's coming to America.

Deputies Serve Local Troops

A volunteer staff to represent the area council in troop visitation work is being built with a troop service representative of the council assigned to aid two or three troops. These troop service deputies will visit their troops, pass on helps and suggestions to their scoutmasters and be of service in every way possible. While the list is not completed as yet it included the following: D. C. Leach, serving 1, 9, and 13; L. F. Todd, serving 2, 3, and 4; J. G. Seyfried, serving 5, 6, and 8; H. W. Shaw, serving all Sea Scout units; Bob Townley, serving 55 and promoting outdoor activities; Ray Fogg, serving 33 and 35; E. L. Stanton, serving 51, 52, and 61; Robert Anspach, serving 32 and 37. Other men are being secured to aid scoutmasters in their work.

Plan Leadership Encampment

Forty boys representing the various troops of the north shore towns will gather at the "Cabin in the Woods" on November 25 and 26 for a two-day leadership encampment, which will be in charge of Field Executive W. Ted Grant and a group of Scoutmasters.

The two days' encampment, in addition to including fine eats and lots of fun, has as its objective the interchange of experiences so that the boy leaders of the various troops can take back to their troops new ideas, games, stories and methods.

The junior officers who will attend will leave on Friday morning and return Saturday evening.

Hold Monthly Conference

The various Scout executives serving the territory centering around Chicago will hold their regular monthly conference at the office of the North Shore Area Council at Highland Park on December 1. These representatives of approximately twenty suburban councils meet monthly for the interchange of experience.

Form Class in Religious Education for Children

A need has been felt in Winnetka by the younger married women for assistance in guiding the religious training of their children in the home. A class has now been formed by a few members of Christ church, with the aid and co-operation of the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard. The group meets Wednesday mornings at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Parker, 200 Linden avenue. Perplexing questions are discussed informally. All who feel the need of this study will be most welcome in the group.

The shells of 24 of the 43 varieties of mussels found in the Rock river in Illinois are suitable for making buttons.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coyne of 597 Provident avenue left Tuesday for Florida to remain two weeks.
