North Shore Librarian Is on A. L. A. Committee

Miss Nellie A. Olson of the Public Schools library, Winnetka, has been appointed a member of the Educational committee of the American Library association, according to a recent announcement from the Association headquarters in Chicago.

This committee is one of sixty-one A. L. A. committees which enable the A. L. A. to give advisory assistance to library trustees, librarians, prospective library workers, and interested citizens. Library work with the foreign born, work with the blind, hospital libraries, institutional libraries, library legislation are only a few of the subjects that are studied and investigated by standing committees.

In addition to the work of the committees, the association is conducting researches on the library and adult education, library extension, and education for librarianship.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Miss Inez Virginia Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Webster, 319 Oxford road, Kenilworth, was hostess to ten of her friends at a dinner given at her home Saturday evening, November 19. The party afterwards attended the play at New Trier, "Inside the Lines." In this way Miss Webster celebrated her seventeenth birthday. The guests included Frances McConnell, Rose Flentye, Elwyn Hewitt, Madelon Beall, Jean Clagett, Dorothy Hartmann, Margaret Whitsett, Laura Luebke, and Gertrude Winzenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cresap, who have been in Atlantic City for a few days, returned to Chicago last week remaining at the Drake hotel over the week-end. They are now at home in Kenilworth.

Tough Job Ahead to Shape Up Good Purple Cage Squad

Interest in basketball at Northwestern took an added spurt this week as a number of football players prepared to turn their attention to the popular winter sport. A squad of fifteen men which has been working out all fall will be augmented by a half dozen grid men.

Coach Arthur "Dutch" Lonborg, the Purple's new cage mentor, faces a difficult task in whipping together a combination which will be ready to take the floor for the opening game with Wabash here December 10. The Purple had a disastrous season last year, finishing at the bottom of the conference. Coach Lonborg must depend on a number of untried sophomores to bolster a team which failed to get going last season.

Four letter men will form a nucleus around which this year's team will be built. These men include Waldo Fisher and Hal Gleichmann, forwards, and Bobby Rusch and Luke Johnsons, guards. The players will be forced to hit a fast pace to prevent being replaced by a number of ambitious sophomores.

Among the newcomers to the squad are Rut Walters and Rus Berghern, centers; Robert Harvey and John Whelan, forwards; Frank Marshall, Merrill Mundy, Ralph Mehler and Johnny Haas, guards. Les Heideman and Doug McKay, guards.

Seventeen games are on Northwestern's cage schedule this season.

KITCHEN SHOWER

The kitchen shower given for Miss Jeanette Cherry by Mrs. John Oleson and Mrs. Walter Marx at the home of Mrs. Oleson in Kenilworth Thursday of last week was a very unique and lovely affair. A group of friends joined together and purchased a complete kitchen outfit in the new red enamel ware and the articles were all packed in a large box which some one had decorated with pictures appropriate to newly weds and to cooking. There were about twenty-five guests present, and a delicious tea was served.
