ADDRESS ON THE TEMPLE

The topic in the studio of Mr. Louis Bourgeois, architect, 536 Sheridan road, Wilmette, Sunday, November 27, at 3 p.m., will be "The Temple." Dr. Zia M. Bagdadi will give an address, and recently returned visitors from the shrines in Palestine are expected to narrate their adventures and impressions. Great progress is reported throughout the world in disseminating the universal principles in which the residents along the north shore coast are vitally interested. Plans for future activities will probably be announced. The public library and reading room at 112 Linden avenue, Wilmette, is open daily.

Kenilworth Police

Get Powerful Car for Speedy Work

The new Kenilworth police car, a Hupmobile "Eight" roadster, was delivered late last week and is now in service, it was announced last Monday. The new machine was ordered purchased by the Kenilworth Village board some time ago and the police committee of that organization was instructed to make the purchase whenever it had decided upon the machine most suited to the department's needs. At that time it was stated that due to the fact that thieves now operate in high powered machines it would be practically impossible for the Village police to apprehend fugitive bandits should the occasion arise, because of the slowness of the equipment formerly used.

The addition of the new patrol car places the Kenilworth police department on a par with most of the north shore organizations. Beacon lights placed at various points throughout the village for the purpose of signaling to officers out on patrol, the addition of tear gas bombs and bomb projectors, the purchasing recently of a new motorcycle, and the addition of several men, have all been factors involved in a general program of maintaining the department on a basis of the highest efficiency.

Peter Plump Makes Debut for Children December 3

The announcement made by the Junior league of Chicago that Peter Plump will make his debut Saturday morning, December 3, at the Harris theater, will be of interest to all children along the north shore. The Junior league is calling this Peter Plump day and the children will be given an opportunity to help Peter Plump, already known to them through their birthday offerings.

The play to be presented is "Rose and the King," and is as interesting for adults as it is for children. Peter Plump will appear in a delightful pantomime dance, "Tempting Peter Plump," in which an evil spirit tries to persuade Peter to forsake the teaching of an Infant Welfare nurse and tempts him with many luscious morsels which he finally refuses. In the end he is rewarded by a nurse who appears with the food he is supposed to have.

The committee says, "Let us support Peter Plump in his good work with a capacity audience. Tickets will be on sale at the Harris theater box office."

Sees Community Papers as Big Safety Boosters

"One of the greatest factors contributing to the cause of the child safety drive, and which has kept up an incessant barrage of publicity flowing into the homes, is that of the local newspaper," says Si. Mayer, president of The Automobile Club of Illinois, at a recent meeting of the Safety committee.

Notwithstanding the general amount of co-operation received from civic organizations, neighborhood clubs and others, more lineage has been offered by local neighborhood editors per paper than any other agency enlisted in the safety drive. The metropolitan dailies have all carried daily accounts of happenings in connection with the campaign, but from the standpoint of community circulation and home interest, it has been noticed that the largest display of safety interest had been cultivated through the local mediums.

Dr. and Mrs. Horace Kent Tenney, Jr., of Madison, Wis., visited Dr. Tenney's mother, Mrs. Horace Kent Tenney of 640 Pine street, Winnetka, over Thanksgiving.
