

North Shore Children to Be Present at Peter Plump Day

Peter Plump Debut Is League Benefit for Welfare Station

BY JEAN TEN BROECK

This morning undoubtedly will find quite a little group of north shore children, accompanied by mothers, or sisters, or grandmothers, or aunts, or cousins, or nurses, or all of these, on their way to the city to be among those present at the formal debut of Peter Plump, in a pantomime dance given during the Junior League performance of "Rose and the Ring" at the Harris theater.

Many mothers and children already know of the Peter Plump Infant Welfare station and the work it does. Others do not. It is one of the organizations in which the Chicago Junior league, many of whose members have been, and are, north shore girls, is interested. It is an organization in which every station of the Infant Welfare society of Chicago is interested. It is mostly supported by donations of children of the city and the north shore for the care and development of healthy babies, as its name implies. Children save their birthday pennies and send them in for the upkeep of this station, and it is hoped that in time enough income will be derived from this source to support Peter Plump entirely. The Chicago Junior league has outfitted the station charmingly, and is giving today's performance of its clever play as a benefit for Peter Plump and its little tots. Tickets for the production, which is a delight to every child and to every adult with something of the child still in his heart, are on sale at the box office of the Harris theatre.

Miss Hazel Sharp of Chicago is drilling the pantomime, "Tempting Peter Plump," which concerns itself with an evil spirit trying with many delectable morsels to lure Peter Plump away from the teachings of an infant welfare nurse. His will is strong, however, and in the end he receives his fitting reward.

Green and Ivory Color Note at Recent Wedding

From the beautiful bouffant gown of old ivory chiffon velvet, and the veil of ivory tulle worn by the bride, who carried gardenias, valley lilies and sweet peas, from the bouffant chiffon velvet frocks shading from pale green to darker hues worn by her attendants, and from their bouquets of calla lilies and white snap dragons, to the decorations of the church, the color scheme of green and ivory was charmingly carried out at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Kerr and Eugene Comstock Lathrop. Huge clusters of calla lilies, ferns and palms, and the mellow flame of lighted candelabra along the aisles, graced Christ church last Saturday evening when the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard read the marriage service at 8 o'clock, assisted by Dr. Hubert Carleton.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Kerr of 707 Forest avenue, Wilmette, where pink roses and white chrysanthemums were used in decoration.

The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Brown of Evanston, the maid of honor; Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Jr., of Jackson, Mich., the matron of honor, and her bridesmaids, Miss Beatrice Wurzer of Detroit, Miss Julia Cotton of Des Moines, Miss Elizabeth Thompson of Wilmette, and Mrs. Stanley Wisdom of Skokie Heights.

Arthur Stewart of Melbourne, Fla., served as best man, and the ushers included Kenneth Kerr, William Wallace Kerr, Jr., Gerald Walsh of Montreal, Cecil Powell and Edward Rockwell of Melbourne, Fla., Ray Hall of Pontiac, Mich., and Robert Snow of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop left for New York for a ten day stay and will return to the Kerr home in Wilmette for a few days before motoring to Florida by way of Washington. They will be at home at 616 Lincoln avenue, Melbourne, Fla.
