People with whom Pierce-Arrow is a tradition, and there are thousands, are delightfully surprised by the ultra-modishness of the new car—and by its moderate price.

The things we treasure are not thought of in terms of price

Stop before the finest shop you know, and what do you see that you want most? Isn't it something that expresses the artistry of human hands wrought upon worthy materials—something which suggests enduring beauty and serviceability?

It may be a fine piece of furniture—or a rare rug from the Orient—or an exquisite bit of jewelry. But, whatever it is, you will want it because of its priceless perfections.

And that's precisely the appeal of Pierce-Arrow—particularly the new Pierce-Arrow, which besides is as smart as a Parisian mode.

Jeannette Cherry Becomes Bride of Marshall Branch

By V. H.

One of the prettiest of Kenilworth's many beautiful brides this fall was Miss Jeannette Cherry when she was married to Marshall Branch of Evanston last Saturday evening. The service was performed in the Union church of Kenilworth at 8:30 o'clock in the evening by Dr. Herbert Willett, before an altar banked with green southern smilax and palms, interspersed with great masses of chrysanthemums shading from light yellow to deepest bronze. The same fall colorings were carried out in the costumes and flowers of the bride's attendants. The matron of honor, Mrs. James Cherry, was gowned in cloth of gold with a train of green chiffon and carried yellow roses. The two bridesmaids, Miss Inabelle Branch, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Kenneth Ford, a recent bride, wore gowns of green transparent velvet cut in period style and carried bouquets of small pom-pom chrysanthemums in bronze and yellow. A very effective and unusual color combination, which was particularly appropriate for a November service, was achieved.

The bride's gown was of transparent ivory velvet made with very simple lines. She wore her sister's veil of rose-point lace and carried lilies of the valley with white orchids and sweet peas. Mrs. Frank Cherry, mother of the bride, was in orchid velvet. A reception for intimate friends and relatives followed the church ceremony at the Cherry residence on Abbottsford road, where, again, with flowers and foliage, the fall colors prevailed.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cheyney of Buffalo, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Marcius C. Case of Ithaca, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Bailey of Princeton, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Branch left for a two weeks' motor trip south and on their return will be with Mr. and Mrs. Cherry in Kenilworth until after Christmas, when they will move into their own apartment in Evanston.

Large Attendance at Club Music Meeting

The department of music of the Neighbors held its monthly meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Frank Young on Cumnor road. Mrs. Edward Marshall of Kenilworth gave a very thorough and painstaking outline of the development of music during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Her daughter, Miss Virginia Marshall, soprano, Hardin Van Duersen, baritone, and Miss Bernice Bulley, pianist, with poise and grace, gave a very excellent program illustrating the different phases brought out in Mrs. Marshall's paper. Each number was precluded with a short sketch by the artist.

An unusually large attendance at this meeting experienced a delightful morning's entertainment. The next meeting of this department will be held in January.

Bentley McCloud of Kenilworth spent a few days this week in Oklahoma on business. Mr. and Mrs. McCloud entertained the latter's brother and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olmstead of Milwaukee, and their baby, over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mrs. Harry Harrison of Kenilworth motored to Iowa last Wednesday and returned on Thanksgiving day with her mother and father.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Duncan, 237 Cumnor road, Kenilworth, entertained ten guests at dinner on Thanksgiving day.
