

Winter Keeps Firefighters Busy— When Furnaces Are Started, Remember Your Insurance!

It's a great temptation to shovel on coal until your house feels like the tropics, when the mercury's dropping outside. That is what keeps firemen answering calls day and night in winter.

Now—more than any time of year—it is important to have your home and household effects covered by insurance. Don't run the risk of big losses when protection costs so little.

Quinlan & Tyson can insure you at once with one of the leading old line companies. In case of fire, at any time after you sign the application, you are fully covered. The rates offered are the lowest obtainable. Prompt settlement of claims is assured. Why not come in today and let us attend to this very important detail of home protection?
