Community House Scene of Church Group Dinners

Two dinners took place at the Winnetka Community House last week. Saturday night at 6 o'clock a dinner was held for the students and teachers of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades of the Congregational church school. Henry Warren, who accompanied McMillan on his Arctic expedition, gave an illustrated lecture on his experiences.

An old-fashioned dinner was held for the men of the church Friday, December 9, at 7 o'clock, which was a preliminary to the church building fund canvass to be launched tomorrow.

matters as details of architectural plan and shape pale to insignificance. We occupy a most unique position, with members of twenty-six religious denominations in our group. We are organized to serve a very large proportion of the community. We have saved the differences, the duplications, and the multiplied expenses of competitive denominationalism.

"The sane, the sensible, the business-like thing is to find out how much money is available for an adequate, well-considered building program. That is what a business organization would do; it is the thing for the church to do. Then, and not until then, can the church intelligently decide what it wants to do."

Report of the results of the church canvass will be made to the church shortly after its completion, and it is expected that the church will consider the matter of plans at that time.

Give Travelogue on Europe for Local School Children

The children of each of the Winnetka schools were entertained last Monday by Miss Eleanor Cook and Miss Eugenia Folliard in a program which took the form of a travelogue on eastern Europe. The children were shown the modes and customs of the people in the different countries in this region by means of a series of folk songs and dances.

The program started with Czechoslovakia and continued with Jugoslavia and Poland. Miss Cook and Miss Folliard dressed in native peasant costumes and pictured vividly in their songs, dances and pantomimes the true life of the people of eastern Europe.

A like demonstration of the dress, dances, and songs of the people of Russia, Roumania and Hungary was given. In these Miss Cook and Miss Folliard characterized a boy and a girl, presenting the light dances characteristic of the peasants of these countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, parents of Mrs. Robert Price and Mrs. Peter Johansen, both of Winnetka, who have been visiting their daughters, left Thursday for Florida to spend the greater part of the winter in St. Petersburg.

Miss Eleanor Hoagland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Hoagland, 416 Willow road, secretary of the business and professional women's department of the Y. W. C. A. in Indianapolis, will be home for Christmas week. She will arrive Saturday, December 24.
