"Broadway" Scores Success in Current Run at Selwyn

With its mingled elements of comedy, tragedy, girls and music "Broadway" has literally swept Chicago off its feet during its long run at the Selwyn Theatre. Jed Harris' colorful drama of the cabarets is now in its fourth month at the Dearborn street playhouse and in the matter of average weekly receipts, Chicago heads the list of cities where the play is now on view, including New York, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Berlin, Vienna, Budapest and Sofia. London gave it thirty-five profitable weeks last season.

The world-wide success of "Broadway" has been variously ascribed to its unique blending of comedy and tragedy, its splendid stage direction and its novelty of theme and atmosphere but with the rank and file of playgoers its absorbing and well-acted story is probably the strongest factor in its success. How Roy Lane, an egotistical but likable young "hoofer" in a New York night club makes love to Billie Moore, a beginner in the chorus, and rescues her from the clutches of a vicious gang leader, is told in colorful, swift-moving scenes in which gay humor is interspersed with grim tragedy. All the action takes place "backstage" in the club and there is a bevy of sprightly chorus grls to add realistic musical comedy atmosphere. A jazz orchestra also lends pep to the performance.

CHANGE STORE LOCATION

Miss Lulu King's Book shop moved this week from 724 Elm street two doors west, to 728 Elm street. The new shop is larger, making sufficient room for a large supply of books and cards for Christmas, as well as for the rental library.

N. T. Cage Season Opens Saturday; Play Crane Tech

Two Crane Tech teams come to the north shore this evening to aid New Trier basketiers in the official opening of the basketball season. The first game between the lightweight fives will start at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by the heavyweight tilt. As the Chicago school has long emphasized basketball in its sports program, it is probable that the game will be featured by fast floor work and clever shooting and while the season is only at its start, will probably be one of the most interesting games scheduled.

Prospects for the season are excellent and the air of gloom commonly worn by varsity coaching staffs is entirely absent at New Trier, "Duke" Childs, head of the athletic department, and Coach Grater appearing "sans" mourning signals and wearing to the contrary an expression generally associated with pleasant anticipation. Even the most pessimistic of local fandom appear content with the forecast and fail for once to "view with alarm."

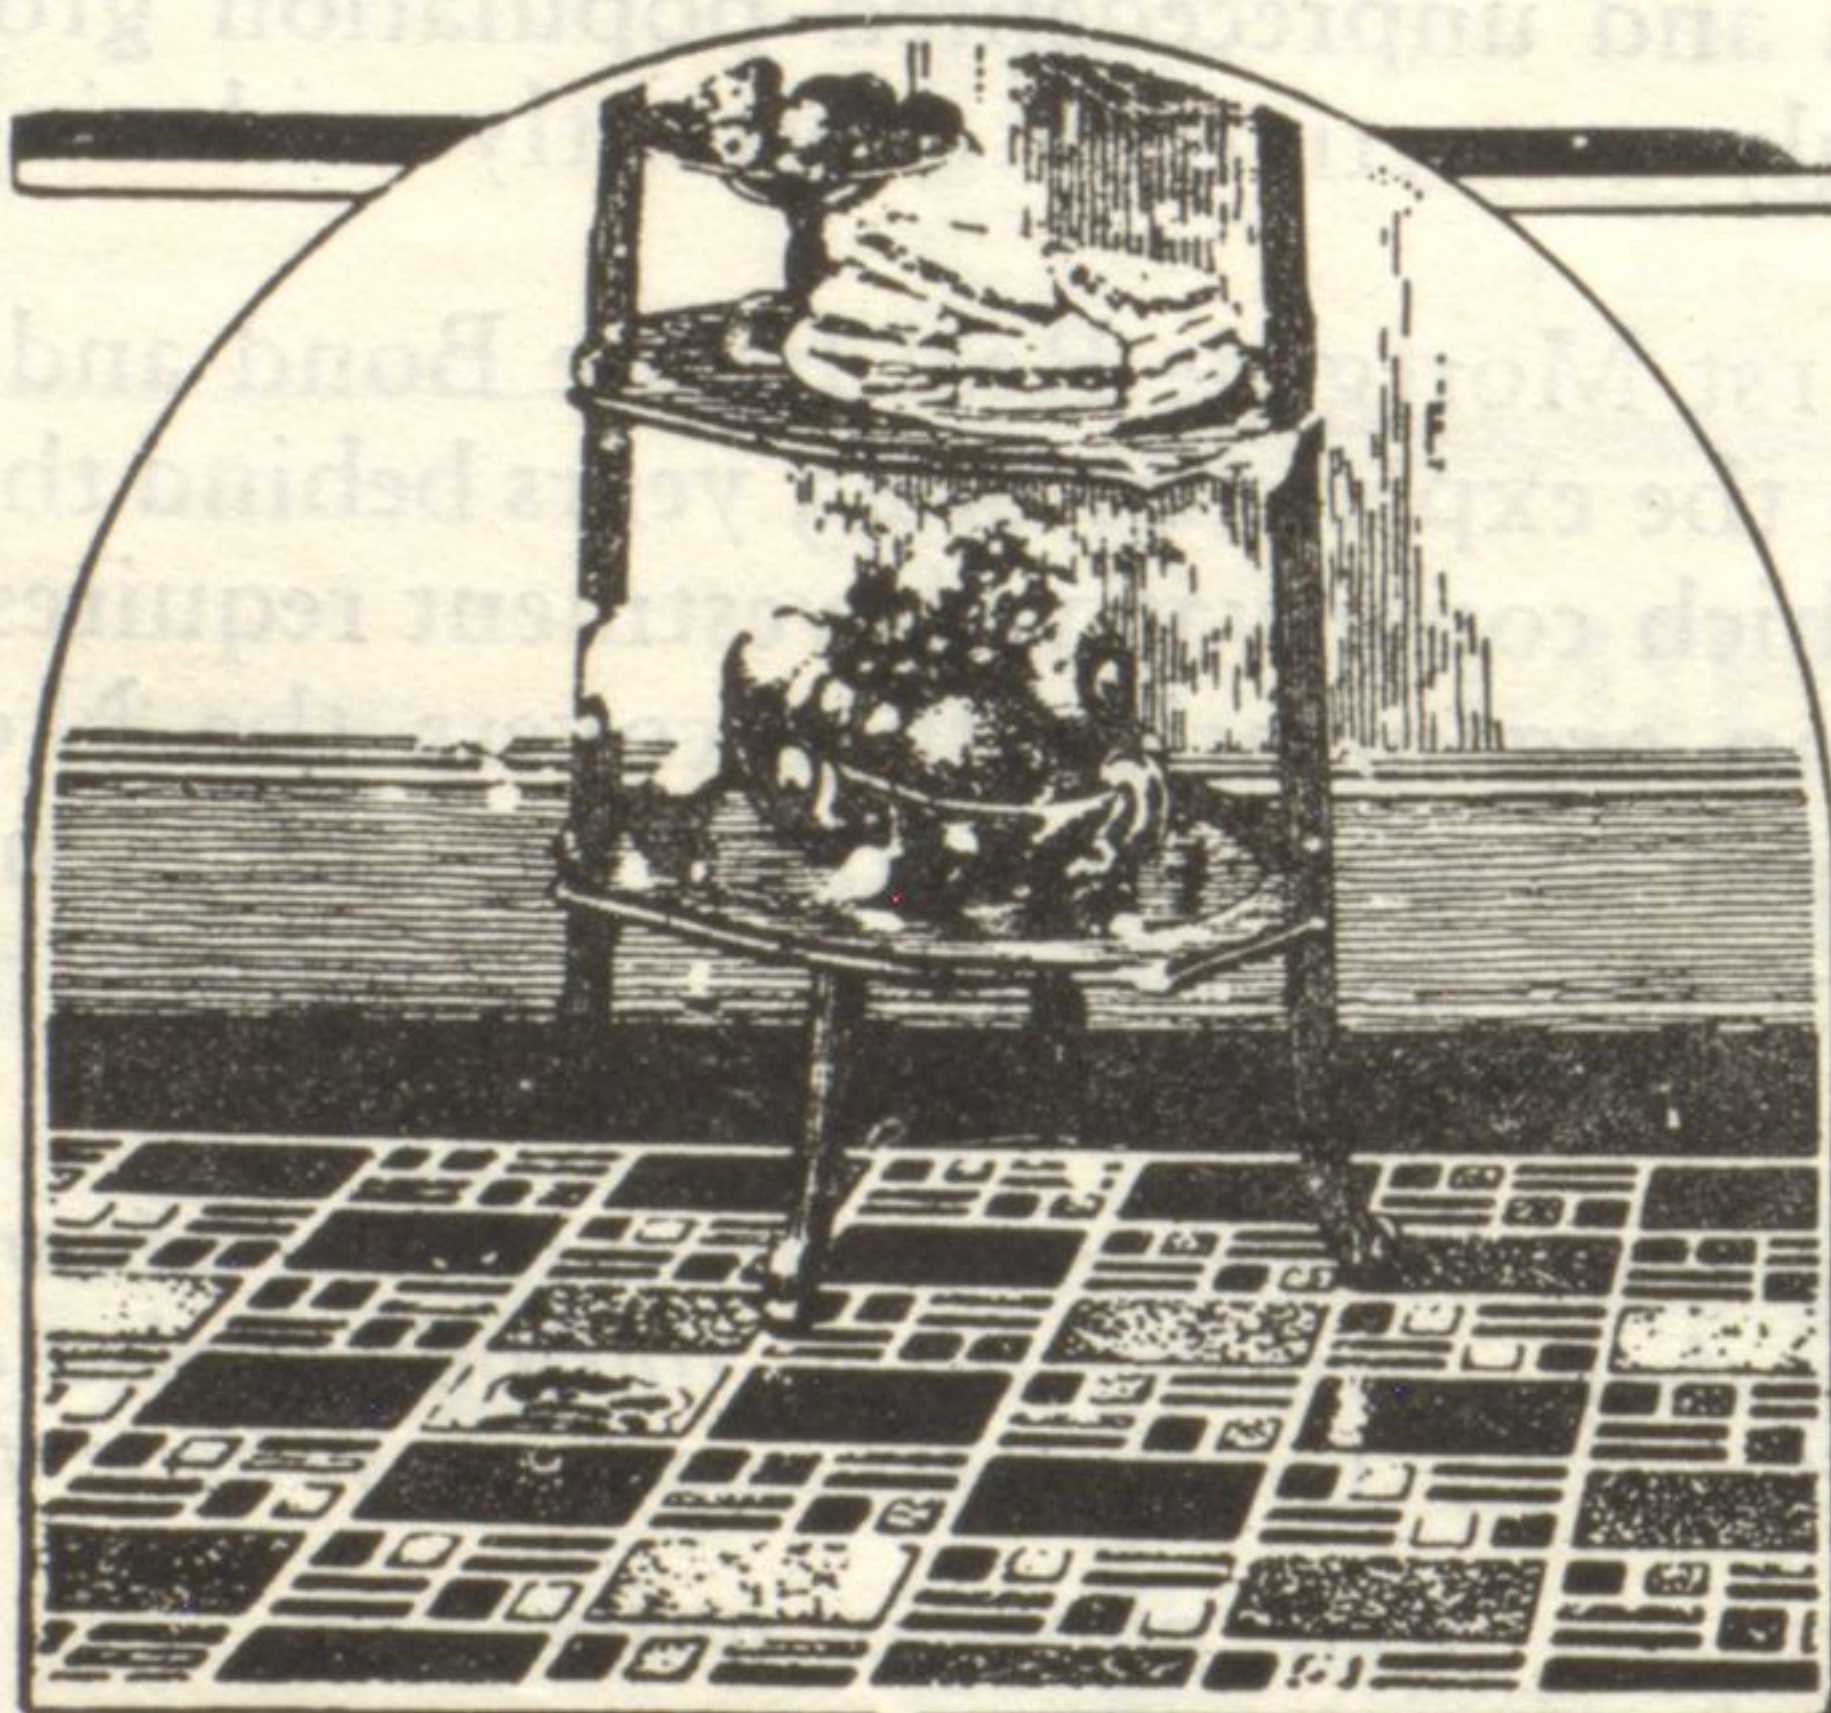

Fifteen games have been scheduled for the year by New Trier and the boys started active practice on Friday of last week. Over a hundred candidates are out in each section and it is reported are shaping up well for so early in the season. Four letter men are to be noticed. In the heavyweight division Capt. John Sheldon and Nelson and Markley are contending with the new men for a place on the team. Stanley Smith represents last year's squad with the lightweights.
