Waltonians Would Create International Playground

The entire strength of the Izaak Walton League of America will be thrown into the campaign to create an international wilderness playground along the Minnesota-Canadian boundary, it was announced this week by Judge Jacob M. Dickinson, former Secretary of War and now national president of the league.

"This project is not sectional, first because this wilderness is truly national in its present and future use, and, secondly, because policies determined here will affect the public domain in all America," Judge Dickinson declared.

The region to be included in the area consists of the present Superior National Forest, in Minnesota, and the Quetico Provincial park, across the line in Ontario, with a total of approximately 1,500 square miles of forest wilderness containing more than 3,500 lakes, most of them connected into a vast network of waterways which has made of this country the greatest canoeing center in America, League officials said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway Watson and their children moved Thursday into an apartment they have taken for the winter at 199 Lake Shore drive, Chicago. They will probably spend Christmas day in Winnetka and will return to their Winnetka home, 900 Sunset road, next spring.

Mrs. M. J. Mayer of St. Louis, Mo., has been spending the last week with her brother, Dr. Clarence Loeb of 1054 Tower road. She intends to return home some time at the beginning of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush Butler, 40 Locust road, are leaving January 2, to spend two months at Palm Beach.

Wilmette Artists Speakers at Home and Garden Club

The Home and Garden club met last Monday at the home of Mrs. Theodore Moritz, 226 Warwick road, Kenilworth. Although it is so near Christmas there was a good attendance and those who were there enjoyed one of the most unique programs the club ever has had. It was interesting to find such talent as that of the two artists who presented the program, Mrs. Graham Taylor and Mrs. Gordon Wilson, both of Wilmette. Both are artists well known in the profession and much of their work is done in Gloucester, Mass., with the artist colony there.

They brought with them on Monday, a display of paintings of gardens along the north shore, one picture of especial beauty being a corner in the Rosenwald garden at Lake Forest by Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson pointed out in her talk that the gardener planned and made her pictures in the garden and that necessarily they were temporary, passing away with the season, but that the artist was able to perpetuate this vision in painting.

Mrs. Taylor's work is more conventional in its type. She takes the gardener's own flowers and puts them into some conventional design on a plaque to be hung in the home after the garden is gone.

At the tea which followed the program Mrs. John Roberts and Mrs. J. H. Newport poured. During a brief business meeting it was voted that the club assist in the excellent work done by Mrs. Joseph Joyce and her committee at Great Lakes and help families of some of the war veterans stationed there.

Walter Marx, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marx, 522 Essex road, Kenilworth, and John Olmstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymore H. Olmstead, 783 Foxdale avenue, Winnetka, return home this week from Williams college.

Melville Augdahl will return Sunday from Red Wing seminary, Red Wing, Minn., to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angel Augdahl of 909 Cherry street.
