

Women Voters

The 130 women who gave up their Christmas shopping and attended the luncheon of the Winnetka League of Women Voters last Monday in Community House pronounced the program a most interesting picture of the national scope of league work.

Miss Belle Sherwin, the national president, who made a hurried trip from the Moraine Hotel in Highland Park, where the national board is in session, gave a most fitting talk as an introduction to the educational program planned by Mrs. William B. Moulton, Winnetka chairman of education. Miss Sherwin emphasized the large curriculum of study undertaken by the League in its efforts to educate women for political service.

The four college women—Miss Katherine Adams, representing Bryn Mawr; Miss Mary Jane Judson, Smith; Mrs. Hallet Thorne, Vassar; and Mrs. Fred Page, Wisconsin—brought out in so entertaining a way the work done in their respective colleges toward fitting women graduates for civic service that the entire audience wished that they might enter college at once. Some of the distinctive work done at Bryn Mawr is: Student lecture forum, Summer school for industrial women, Close association with a national counsellor of the League of Women Voters; Smith college: A large interest in courses dealing with government and politics, A course in international law, Keen interest in national elections and issues; Vassar: Courses in eutheics, Inter-collegiate debates, Vassar college political association, which visits the legislature and state institutions; Wisconsin: Strong collegiate chapter of League of Women Voters; Deep interest in international issues because of large number of foreign students, Pre-election work carried on for students from other states.

Special honor guests at the luncheon were senior girls from Ferry Hall at Lake Forest and from New Trier High school.

The luncheon was served by Mrs. Herbert Hedman, chairman of the 11th precinct, Mrs. Hugo Layer, chairman of the 25th precinct, and their block captains.

All activities of the league have been adjourned until after the New Year.

ARRANGE YULE SERVICES

Programs for the observance of Christmas, at the Winnetka Congregational church, have been carefully adjusted, it is announced, to the fact that Christmas this year comes on Sunday. Among other things this will make the usual candle light service identical with the 5 o'clock vespers.
