

HAGEN WILL ATTEND GOLD EXPO IN MARCH

Chicago Association of Commerce Brings "The Haig" to Third Annual Show

The presence of Walter Hagen in full possession of life and limb at the third annual International Golf Show in Chicago, March 12 to 17, inclusive, is guaranteed by a $50,000 policy signed and approved in Chicago just before golfdom's greatest star entrained for Hollywood and a debut before the movie camera.

Hagen, "the Lindbergh of the Links," five times winner of the American P. G. A. championship and twice holder of both the British and National Open titles, will be the outstanding star of this year's Golf Show and Country Club Equipment Exposition. His contract signed at a luncheon tendered to the world's greatest golfer calls for his constant appearance during the six consecutive days of the show.

At the same time "The Haig" accepted an invitation to address the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Ways and Means Committee luncheon Wednesday, March 14. Hagen, now a member of the firm of The L. A. Young company, manufacturers of golfing equipment, will make his bow as a business executive and is to discuss the amazing growth of the great and diversified business establishment behind the game of golf.

Invitations to the 6,700 presidents and greenkeepers of country clubs in the United States and Canada to attend the show this year are to be sent out by Robert McManus' golf committee of the Association of Commerce. They will stress the position of Chicago as the great central market of the golf equipment industry and the fact that this year's show seems certain to draw upwards of 50,000 during the six days from March 12 to 17 inclusive.

More than 200 manufacturing exhibitors—of whom 66 per cent thus far signed are from territory outside the Chicago metropolitan district—will have exhibits at this year's show. These will range from tees to tractors, from golf balls and bags to greens and fairway equipment. Every conceivable kind of device designed to equip and maintain golf courses and country clubs will be found in the exhibition aisles—or "Fairways"—which will occupy the entire mezzanine floor and foyer of the new Hotel Sherman with the exposition auditorium and grand ballroom added.

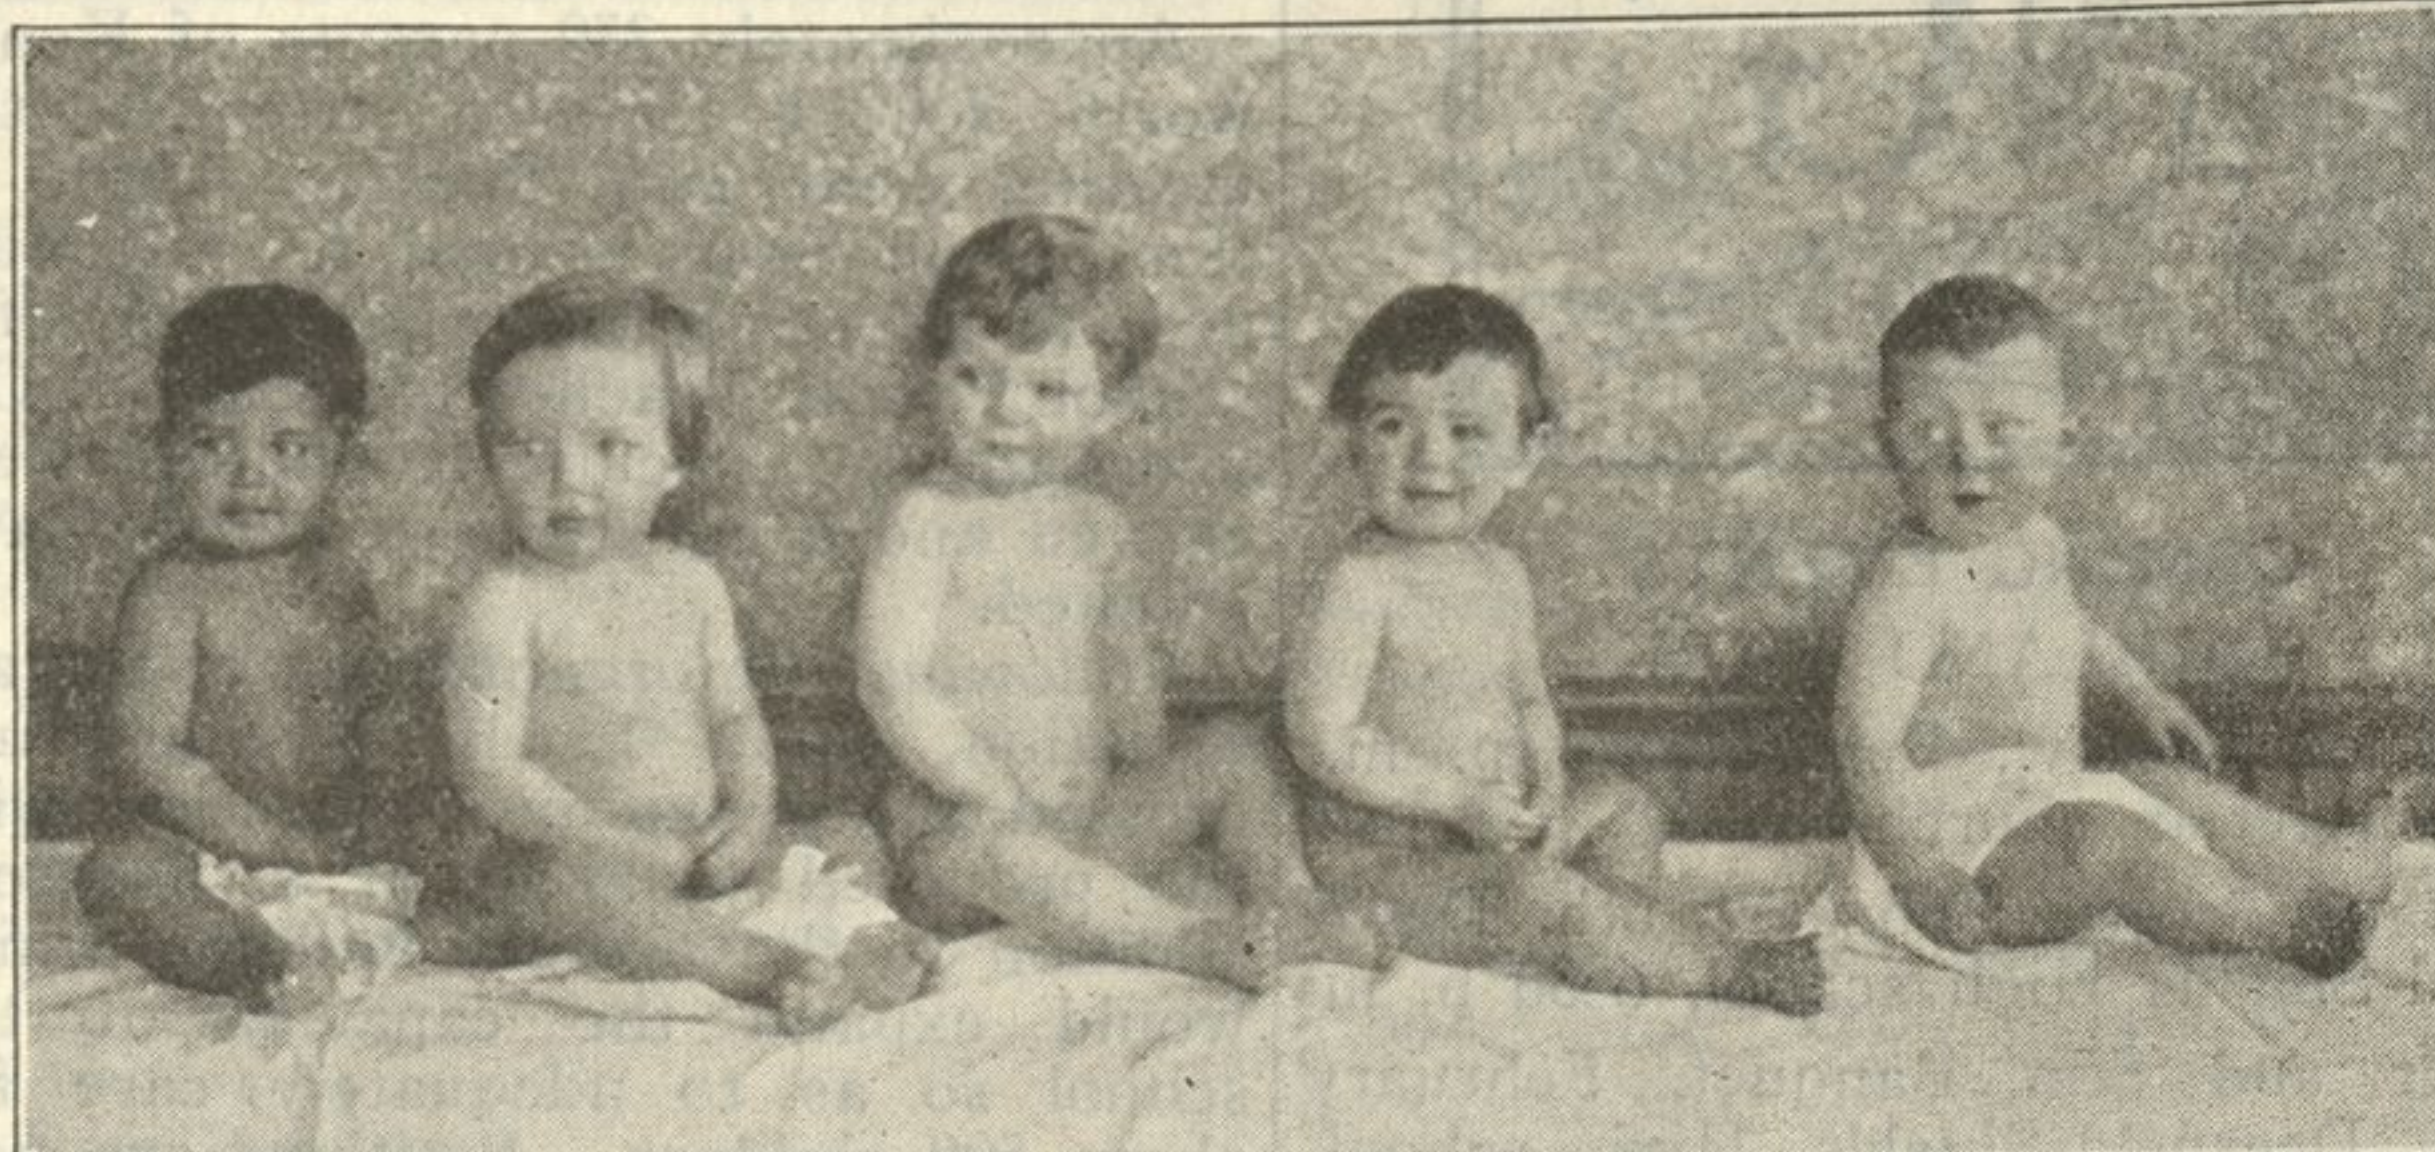

During the six days of the show Walter Hagen will not only meet and greet his friends, fellow contestants in every important open championship and admirers but will also give daily exhibitions of putting and driving form. A battery of "pros" of national prominence will also be on hand to give free instruction to all who apply for it.

Hagen will finish his first motion picture venture late in February and will return to Chicago about March 10.

Kenilworth Scouts Strive for Anniversary Badges

Troop 13 of Kenilworth is planning to have a patrol chest for every patrol. One patrol already has a chest.

Last week Joe Harrison became a scout. He received his tenderfoot badge on Tuesday of last week when the monthly Court of Honor was held. Sixteen scouts received Merit Badges. We shall try to have 18 receive Merit Badges for Scouting's eighteenth anniversary. The next Court of Honor will be February 21. It will probably be held at Kenilworth Gym in the Guild room.—Paul Gilbert, Scribe.

Youthful Novices Responsible For Most Crimes Today

Hinton G. Clabaugh of Winnetka, chairman of the Illinois pardon and parole board and candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke at Oklahoma City, Okla., recently on "The Cost of Crime in Lives and Dollars." The address was given before the Rotary club and a group of prominent citizens at the Huckens hotel. "When one begins to study crime," he said, "one runs immediately into startling facts.

"For example, analysis of the records of 6,342 prisoners in the penal institutions at Joliet, Chester and Pontiac reveals that 4,724 of them, or 74.7 per cent, are serving their first terms," he said. "Of the remainder 17.9 per cent are serving their second terms, 4.9 per cent their third terms, 1.9 per cent their fourth terms and that only .6 per cent have served more than four terms.

"This proves that the largest part of our crime is committed by young men and boys, novices. Only a small share repeat. There is hope in that.

"From sixteen to twenty-five years is the most dangerous period in the lives of both sexes. We find that approximately 74 per cent of all arrests come between these years. But there are criminals even younger than that. We have a convicted murderer only 10 years old and a rapist only fourteen years old. We have 88 boys convicted of gun holdups when less than seventeen years old. The second most dangerous period is from twenty-six to thirty. So crime is largely a matter of youth, indiscretion and inexperience.

"My view of the crime situation is that of first importance comes environment, education, training and ability to earn an honest living. The prevention of crime, in other words, is most important.
