THE WASHINGTON LAUNDRY MAN REPRESENTS MORE THAN "A PLACE WHERE WASHING IS DONE"

IN your neighborhood—and many others—he is the representative of clean-clothes satisfaction. His hobby is being courteous, obliging and businesslike.

He is popular because, when he returns the finished laundry bundle, the housewife finds everything washed sweet and clean—the work of expert minds and trained hands—work that has been characterized "quality work" for 40 years.

The Washington Laundry Man represents something else besides "clean clothes satisfaction." That is Time—Time for more pleasant duties than doing or supervising the family laundry.

This man has a service for each family budget. He can return the weekly wash at a figure lower than it could be done for at home.

STRESS ROUND TABLE TALKS AT CONFERENCE

North Shore Leaders Booked on Program of Child Psychology Parley This Month

Round table discussions on child psychology proved so popular at the first Mid-West Conference and School for Parents, which was held last year, that the conference to be held this year, February 16, 17 and 18, at the Palmer House, Chicago, will give parents plenty of opportunity to attend these helpful discussions. The conference is held under the auspices of the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education, which has its offices at 537 S. Dearborn street. The conference proved immensely popular with parents of Chicago and its suburbs last year, and a better than capacity attendance is predicted this year.

Dr. William Kilpatrick, professor of the Philosophy of Education, Teachers' college, Columbia university, who is said to be the most popular lecturer in his line in the United States, will lecture on "Discipline and Character,"

Saturday morning, February 18. As his lecture especially appeals to school teachers, it is thought many of the north shore grade and high school teachers will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear him.

Winnetkans On Program

Dr. J. W. F. Davies, director of the Winnetka Community House, will conduct a round table discussion, Thursday, February 16, at 12:30 p. m., on "The Use of Leisure Time Activity for Character Development." Perry Dunlap Smith, head master of the North Shore Country Day school, will conduct on Friday, February 17, at 12:30, on "Building Character Through Unified Education." Ralph C. Hammill of Winnetka, president of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene, and Dr. Herman Adler, director of the Institute for Juvenile Research, are programmed on Friday, February 17, at 2:30 o'clock.

Round table discussions by other noted speakers will take place Thursday and Friday from 12:30 to 2:30 p. m. "Expression Through Literature and Character Development," conducted by Irene I. Cleaves of the Francis W. Parker school; "Teaching Children the History of Religions," by Dr. H. S. Dimock, professor of psychology and religious education of the Y. M. C. A. college; "Social Attitudes and Character," by Jane Addams of Hull House; "The Ebb and Flow of Religious Feeling in Adolescence," by Dr. Solomon B. Freehof of Chicago; and a discussion conducted by Dr. J. M. Artman, general secretary of the Religious Education association, are some of the round tables arranged for Thursday, February 16. Topics to be discussed on Friday at round tables include "Creative Expression Through the Arts in Relation to Personality Development," by Lucia Burton Morse; "Creative Activity and Enriched Quietness in Character Development," by Laura B. Garrett; "Social Attitudes and Character," by Professor Ellsworth Faris; "The Modern Child and the Idea of God," by Dr. A. Eustace Haydon, associate professor of History of Religion at the University of Chicago.

Series of Lectures

The mornings and afternoons will be devoted to lectures by such prominent men as Dr. Mark A. May of the Department of Education at Yale University; Dr. E. D. Starbuck, director of the Institute of Character Research at the University of Iowa; Prof. Henry C. Morrison of the Department of Education at the University of Chicago; Dr. Joseph Jastrow, of the New School for Social Research, New York; Dr. Bernard Glueck, Psychiatrist of New York; Dr. William Healy, director of the Judge Baker Foundation at Boston; George A. Dorsey, Ph.D., L.L.D.; Dr. Harold Rugg of Lincoln school, Teachers' college, New York; Dr. M. C. Otto, Department of Philosophy of the University of Wisconsin; and Dr. Florence Mateer, Clinical Psychologist of Columbus, Ohio.

Reservations for the Friday evening dinner, February 17, can be made through the Chicago office, of which the telephone number is Wabash 7354.

CHOIR TO GIVE BENEFIT

Next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Parish House on Oak street, a musical entertainment will be given by the Edgewater Church choir, under Prof. Frank Earnest. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Christian Fellowship church.

CORRECTION

An item in last week's Talk stated that Mrs. Warren O. Lamson of 940 Sheridan road had been re-elected an officer of the board of the United Charities of Chicago. Mr. Lamson, not Mrs. Lamson, was elected a director, and this is his first term of office.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Hopkins, 915 Ash street, have had as their guest this past week, Mrs. Hopkins' sister, whose home is in Peoria.
