

BARRINGTON

A Region of Rare Beauty

Where Small Acreage Tracts Offer New Delights of Living

After the city's excitement, the business man needs the contrast of quiet, rural surroundings. Clear, bracing air, the beauty of the country landscape, and unbounded freedom give him complete rest. And during the day, he can be sure his family is safe and happy in a country home.

In Barrington—only 44 minutes from Chicago's loop—the city man's family can live a natural life, with plenty of exercise and wholesome pleasures. Hunting, riding and golfing are part of the daily program in this beautiful, secluded community. Woodland trails encourage walking. Paved roads give direct access by motor to the city, the northern suburbs and nearby lakes, where boating and fishing are good.

Barrington's famous country estates have now been divided, and smaller acre tracts are available. Developments are under way. This is a most favorable time to buy in this region—either for residence or investment.
