

Glencoe's Street Widening Program

The foregoing is a sketch of the street widening and paving program recommended by Street Commissioner Aaron B. Moe and approved at a recent meeting of the Village Board of Glencoe. As denoted by the "key," in the upper left portion of the drawing, streets designed by straight black lines are to be 32 feet wide. The one denoted with the dashes and dots, extending from Scott avenue on the south, along the Northwestern railroad right-of-way, through the village and over to the intersection of Greenbay and County Line roads, is the proposed new Through highway, 52 feet wide. The brief section denoted with dashes only, is to be 53 feet wide and includes Hazel avenue from Greenwood avenue to Glencoe road, and the proposed Temple court from Vernon avenue to Glencoe road. The short section indicated by dots only, from Tudor court to Park avenue, is planned for a 67 foot width.

Frank W. Russo Sees Bright Outlook for Woodland Manor Sub

Frank W. Russo, among his many other real estate activities in and about Deerfield where he maintains one of the up-to-date real estate offices in that thriving village, is handling the sale of property in Woodland Manor, the pretty new subdivision up in the north end of Deerfield, adjoining Woodland Park to the east.

Deerfield, in order to keep apace with demands for its new comers, has come to be fairly surrounded by numerous high class sub-divisions, of which Mr. Russo says Woodland Manor is one of the finest.

It is high land, wooded, and with building restrictions of $10,000. Improvements are going in this year, he says, and 1928 promises much activity here, Mr. Russo anticipates.

Mrs. Seymour H. Olmsted of 783 Foxdale avenue has joined the sales force in the Dudley Bradstreet real estate office, 722 Center street, Winnetka.
