

Distinctive Residence Design

The Linden Manor, Hubbard Woods store-apartment structure, emphasizes the residential atmosphere, as opposed to the customary business block architecture, wholly in keeping with the exclusive residence areas of the north shore. The building is nearing completion at Merrill street and Linden avenue.

Building Permits Indicate Decline in February Span

Building activities on the north shore, which for several months have been establishing new records, and much of which work, started in the fall, is now being brought to completion for spring occupancy, show a material decline for the month of February, as indicated by the volume of building permits issued during that month.

In the villages of Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka and Glencoe, there were a total of 34 permits for improvements, amounting to $392,775, as against almost one-half million dollars' worth in February, 1927.

Indications are said to be favorable, however, for an increase in building this month, and the decline shown during the month of February, it is thought by many, will be more than overcome by increased records in subsequent months of the year.
