

"Racketty Packetty House" Is Addition to College Laurels

By Observer

Capacity houses greeted the morning and afternoon performances of "Racketty Packetty House" at the National Kindergarten and Elementary college on Saturday, which was attended by 1,500 or 1,600 children—and their mothers, fathers, aunts, and uncles—from Glencoe and Highland Park to Chicago.

The play was unquestionably the most artistic and successful of the plays for children which have been given by the college, and added to the laurels of both the student players and the alumnae organizers.

A hush of wonder greeted the appearance of the silvery winged fairy and her little green elves as the curtains swung back for the first time, and the stillness was unbroken until fairy and elves disappeared at the entrance of the little girl and her nurse. But when the nurse and little girl left the stage and the dolls came to life the spell was broken and the hall echoed with delighted laughter and enthusiastic applause and now and then a word of advice from some child who knew the story and wanted to help set things right. And as the play ended with the happy dance of the dolls the children would gladly have joined hands and danced with them for sheer joy if they could have been given the opportunity.

The intermissions, which are apt to be trying times for children, were made interesting by Miss Willmina Townes, director of the Senior Kindergarten of the Children's school, who led the children in rhythms and simple games and gave them an opportunity for movement and change of position.

Between the morning and afternoon performances, luncheon was served in the rooms of the Children's school, which had been attractively decorated with spring flowers. The sale of candy and homemade cookies at the close of the performance also added to the children's enjoyment and to the proceeds, which will carry the alumnae well over their annual budget pledge to the College Building fund.

Formulate Plans for New Golf Year at Northwestern

Plans are now being formulated by officials of the Northwestern Golf club for making the coming season the most successful in the history of the club. Reconstruction work on the links is well under way under the supervision of the county commissioners and many improvements are being made. It is rumored that the National Public Links championship will be held at Northwestern in 1929. Those interested in joining the club may procure information from Julian Tiffany of the City National bank of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Breit of Kenilworth and Miami Beach have entertained a number of their north shore friends at their home at 227 Espanola Way. Wilmette and Kenilworth have been well represented. Betty Jane and Geraldine Breit took part in the annual party at the Flamingo hotel given by Carl Fisher, both doing solo dances and modeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Steele of 385 Sheridan road announce the marriage on March 4 of their daughter, Susan Shirley, to Carl G. Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyers of Tulare, S. D.

A Fence for the Small Estate

These snug little suburban homesteads of two or three acres can well mark their legal limits with the fence that "fits in" admirably with artistic and comfortable surroundings.

RUSTICRAFT'S hand-split timbers of tough young chestnut are as good to look at as they are sturdy and durable. Their natural rustic appearance actually improves with age and requires no paint or care. RUSTICRAFT is easily erected and just as easily taken down for removal.
