University Club Enjoys Anton Ravinski Recital

Anton Ravinski, pianist, playing a program of ultra-modern music, thoroughly delighted an audience at the Evanston University club last Sunday afternoon and evening.

Ravinski is noted for his rather unusual programs, and on this occasion played selections from the best masters of modern music, contrasting Bach, Brahms, Ravel, Stravinsky, Debussy and others. He played a Chopin group beautifully and an interesting dance group which included one of his own compositions, "Blind Bacchus."

The enthusiasm with which he was received Sunday lends interest to the program which he will play at 3:30 Sunday at the Goodman theater—"Bach for Moderns."

Miss Jane Ashman, late of Winnetka, and now of Deerfield, spent the last week-end at the home of Miss Natalie Hurd, 518 Sunset road.
