

Plan Benefit Party to Aid Vocational Supervision League

Thursday, April 26, the Vocational Supervision league will hold its annual benefit party at the Stevens hotel in behalf of its scholarship fund. Arrangements are being made for bridge, five hundred, and bunco, and there will be an unusually attractive prize for each of the 510 tables.

Although housed in the Board of Education building, the Vocational Supervision league is maintained entirely by private subscriptions from individuals and clubs all over Chicago and in many of the suburbs interested in furthering education.

It is the purpose of the league, which was organized in 1911, to provide financial assistance to earnest bright children of poor families to enable them to continue in the Chicago public schools beyond the minimum requirements of the law. At present it is helping 114 worthy students to learn some remunerative vocation whereby they and their families may be made independent. All the investigation of applicants and supervision of active cases is conducted by trained social workers. There is an unlimited field for the future growth of the Vocational Supervision league as every year its list of applicants increases tremendously and it is with the hope of doubling its resources to meet this urgent need that the benefit party is being launched.

BAHAI LECTURE

"Heavenly Physicians—Past and Present," will be the topic of address by Dr. Zia M. Bagdadi, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the 8th inst., at 536 Sheridan road, Wilmette.

Most of these addresses, we are informed, are designed especially for students and religious truth seekers for universal light suited to 20th Century

College Cage Star

Miss Ruth Olson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Aaron M. Olson, 630 Walden road, Winnetka, is captain of the champion Freshman basketball team at Rockford college and is otherwise making a fine record with her athletic prowess as well as in the academic field. Miss Olson's Freshman squad recently defeated the Senior aggregation which had enjoyed an unbroken record of successes for four years. Miss Olson, in addition to being an honor student at Rockford, has been selected for the all-college varsity basketball team. Miss Olson is a graduate of New Trier High school.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Cary-Curr of 1051 Spruce street returned to their Winnetka home last Saturday, March 31, after a five months' stay at the Mozart hotel in Chicago.
