

In most districts, the primary settles the choice for state representatives, since the two parties decide to nominate only three candidates between them for the three offices.

A TRAVEL Exposition, in which there paraded children representing the people of other lands, was a big feature of the annual affair at the Hubbard Woods school. But that was not all by a jugful. There were folk dances of the different nations. Then there was a Greek play, in which the children portrayed the story of a Greek family in the time of Pericles; an exhibition of "Roman" boys competing in their favorite games, such as wrestling, running and jumping. And also there was a Doll Show and other features. The proceeds of the affair are being used to buy library books. Those in the picture are: Left to right (top row)—Ellen Sedgwick, Janet Jenkins, Laird Jennings, Priscilla Blocket, Priscilla Korady, Alice Heinsen, Warren Green, Luella Schwartz, teacher. Bottom row—John Seehof, Patricia Walsh, Patsy Sedgwick, Alice Berlin.

Winnetka Police Head Attends Lectures on Police Administration at U. of C.

W. M. Peterson, chief of the Winnetka police department and a graduate with years of experience in the matter of police work, is taking what might be termed a post graduate course in police administration at the University of Chicago, which is being conducted by A. L. Dixon, head of the national police system of Great Britain.

Conducted by Briton

The lectures began Tuesday. They are given at 11 o'clock on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week and will continue for a period of four or five weeks. The general subject is "Police Administration."

Professor Leonard D. White, head of the Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago, in a letter to Village Manager H. L. Woolhiser announcing the coming of Mr. Dixon and requesting that the village of Winnetka send a representative of its police department, stated that from his contact with Mr. Dixon last summer, he became convinced that he is an extremely competent man.

Off to University

In his invitation to the University of representatives of the police departments of some of the more progressive cities of the middle west, Prof. White adds:

"I believe it will be valuable for some of the most alert police officers in American cities to know something about police methods in a country which probably has the best police work in the world."

Accordingly, Chief Peterson who is already a recognized leader in his line of work throughout this country, has been given the opportunity of attending the Dixon lectures, and with interest akin to that of his former school days, is a regular attendant.

Varied Are the Duties of Winnetka Firemen

The last days of March were singularly free from fires. The department had a call to the residence of Everett A. Thatcher, 379 Ridge avenue, not a fire call but to open a door. The maid had unfortunately locked herself out, and the baby in, and it was imperative that she gain admission.

April opened with several small rubbish fires which kept the firemen busy, and on Wednesday evening they were called to the residence of S. Edwin Earle, 467 Linden avenue to either rescue a porter house steak which was blazing in the oven or extinguish the fire.

This fire, Chief Houren said, did not even warrant the use of the chemicals, but even Jack, the fire-house mascot, refused the remains.
