26,618 Humans Killed in Highway Mishaps in 1927

Estimates by the American Road Builders' association show 26,618 persons killed in highway accidents in 1927, 798,700 seriously injured, and economic losses of $672,097,000, exclusive of minor damage to motor vehicles, according to a bulletin received by the Chicago Motor club. The total killed was an increase of 1,316 over 1926, and the injuries and attendant losses bring forcibly to mind the need for "immediate adoption of uniform traffic codes and expansion of the nation's road building programs," the bulletin points out.

"The human factor is the main element contributing to these accidents," it added, "but that human factor could be offset to a large extent by adequate motoring facilities and regulation, coupled with the individual practice of courtesy and caution."

Grade crossing fatalities were said to have decreased for the first eleven months of 1927, the number of persons killed totaling 2,210 as compared with 2,244 for the same period the year before.

NORTH SHORE HOLDS PACE IN BUILDING

While Many Sections of Country Slump Chicago North Suburbs Continue Steady Gain

While reports from various sections of the country indicate that there has been a slight falling off in the volume of building it is of high interest to note that this condition does not exist on the north shore; in fact the figures for the first quarter of the year indicate that nearly every town between Chicago and Waukegan and including Waukegan has registered more than a substantial gain.

These towns include Evanston, Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka, Glencoe, Highland Park, Lake Forest, and Waukegan.

Kenilworth Pacemaker

Kenilworth, which, oddly enough, was one of the few north shore villages to register a loss last year, struck out in the first three months of the year and established that village as the pacemaker, by making a gain of 131 per cent over last year. This gain totaled $221,133.

The figures which were compiled by the S. W. Straus company, show Wilmette, Glencoe and Winnetka far ahead of last year, but Evanston, which set a record feat last year, has fallen behind considerably in the quarter recently ended. Highland Park practically held even with last year. Here are the figures:

Figures for North Shore

	1st Quarter '28	1st Quarter '27
Evanston	2,744,300	4,491,900
Glencoe	432,500	345,980
Highland Park	431,435	437,050
Kenilworth	389,733	168,600
Lake Forest	297,587	246,794
Waukegan	739,936	614,786
Wilmette	528,590	272,711
Winnetka	617,250	529,780

Christian Science Church

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 15.

The golden text was from I John 2:24, "If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you" (II Cor. 6:16, 17).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If the disciple is advancing spiritually, he is striving to enter in. He constantly turns away from material sense, and looks towards the imperishable things of Spirit" (p. 21).
