International Club Holds World Mart at National College

Among the honorary members of the International club of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college who assisted as hostesses at the World Mart which the Club presented at the college on Tuesday afternoon and evening were Mrs. Carlton C. Virgil, Mrs. Jacob Pfeiffer, Mrs. T. C. Fort, Mrs. Horace H. Field, Mrs. J. W. Behr, Miss Helen Hobart, Miss Jessie Sentney and Miss Jane Hutchins White. President Edna Dean Baker, and other faculty members who were sponsors or honorary members of the club, also assisted. Miss Penka Kassabova, a student from Sophia, Bulgaria, president of the International club, was chairman-at-large of the World Mart and Miss Mildred Pierce, a student from India, was chairman of the sale event in which each one of the twenty-six club members was very active. A student group who gave the evening program of songs and dances was assisted by Mrs. Harold T. Hanson of Evanston as soloist, who, in costume, gave a charming group of Japanese songs and the aria from Madam Butterfly.

The attractive Chinese Tea room, presided over by two dainty maids from the Orient in their native costume—serving Jasmine tea and seed cakes—was most attractive. The seed cakes, truly Chinese, were contributed by the faculty of Mary Crane Nursery school at Hull house.

"To work for the good of Childhood Everywhere" is the motto of the club and it is hoping to establish a scholarship fund at National to assist a foreign student who is fitting herself for teaching young children in her native land. The proceeds of the World Mart will be added to this fund.

mosquitos. If you do find them, don't let them escape, for later there will be four hundred for each one that you find now. Place your screens accurately, then darken every window or opening but one, and let that one be to the east or north, if possible. The next morning get up at sunrise, if the weather is warm, and you will find practically all the mosquitoes that were in your basement clinging to that one window, trying to find a way out. They will be only about half awake, so that it will be an easy matter to kill them with a soft cloth. Then go out doors and look over your premises to see whether the fountain basin or ornamental pool needs attention. Clean it up and change the water at least once every eight days, or stock the fountain or pool with fish. Look over your roof gutters, clean them out, and see that they are free from water, for mosquitoes breed in still water sixty to the square inch. Next look for tin cans or any containers that might have any water in them, and if they are serving no purpose, throw them away. If you have tall grass, weeds, or other rank growth, cut it down before the seed pods mature, for while mosquitoes do not breed there unless water is present, they will hide there in the daytime to escape the sunlight and obtain food (moisture).

Plan Intensive Campaign

The North Shore Mosquito Abatement District intends to put through an intensive campaign this season against mosquitoes commencing early and working late to the limit of its resources. The office is at 1853 Green Bay road, Glencoe, phone—Glencoe 314. Look over your neighborhood; see if there are any stagnant pools or other places that might breed mosquitoes and call us up. We will give the matter immediate attention.

Remember that we want your co-operation and only with your co-operation can we succeed!
