

Arden Shore Invites Friends to Annual Homecoming

Graduates of Arden Shore Winter Camp in Reunion May 6

BY JEAN TEN BROECK

Another infallible sign of spring on the north shore is the Arden Shore Homecoming. This week we put ourselves in the form of an invitation to urge you, the public, friends of Arden Shore, to betake yourselves to the encampment on Sunday, May 6, to participate in an all-day festivity of annual pleasure to those boys who came to the winter camp undernourished and undersized, to be graduated, (for the camp holds real commencement exercises for those who have gained the health requirements,) in fine physical condition, trained and ready to meet the standards of the board of education and to seek employment.

Four hundred boys now are graduates of Arden Shore Winter camp and they come from near and far again to gather with their friends for a day of reunion. Arden Shore means much to them. Their clear color and sparkling eyes proclaim it. The songs they sing express it. Their manly spirit betells it. The committees of women in our north shore villages, sincere in their friendship for these boys as is shown in their ceaseless efforts in their behalf, know that to many what the eye sees makes a deeper impression than any amount of information gleaned in other ways, so they, members of the Arden Shore association, extend to you this invitation to come to the camp and see for yourselves what Arden Shore does. We have seen some of these boys, heard them themselves tell what the camp has done in each individual case, and we know.

The boys come out from the city in buses for their day's homecoming. Dinner is served, and supper, too, if they wish to remain. And you, their guests, will hear the program that is planned, and will be served with delicious home made sandwiches, tea, and coffee during the afternoon. The refreshments are supplied by a committee composed of groups of association members living in the north shore villages.

Arden Shore wants its friends to know it. Your own committee is anxious that its village be well represented. The day is Sunday, May 6.

Judson-Rice Wedding One of Most Charming of the Early Spring

Charming among the spring weddings was one which took place last Tuesday evening when Miss Mary Jane Judson of Evanston and Kingsley Loring Rice of Wilmette were married in the First Baptist church of Evanston with Dr. Charles Gilkey of Chicago officiating, assisted by Dr. James Madison Stifler of Evanston. The double ring ceremony was performed in a church decorated with a profusion of white tapers and palms, smilax and white flowers, while snap dragons and roses were arranged throughout the Evanston Country club where a small reception followed the ceremony.

The bridal gown was fashioned of ivory satin, with a court train and a veil of tulle fastened to a coronet of lace with lace butterflies at each side of the head. The bride's bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley and orchids. The gowns of her attendants all followed the straight-line mode and were longer in back than in front. The maid of honor, Miss Alice Colby Judson, wore pale green and carried sweet peas and yellow roses, while the bridesmaids, Miss Elisabeth Rice, Miss Margaret Scott, Miss Dorothy Pickard, Miss Lydia Atwater, Mrs. John Nuveen, Jr., Miss Laura Kimball, and Miss Elinor Woodward, wore dresses of three shades of coral and carried coral pink and lavender sweet peas and Madame Drieux roses. The flower girl, Janet Carle Ingram, was in pink georgette and carried a basket of rose petals, and the ring bearer, Fielder Colby Ingram, was in black and white satin.

Gordon Merrill Jones of Evanston was best man, and the ushers were Cranston Spray, Victor Ligare, Sherwood Clapp, Horatio Chandler, John Nuveen, Jr., Spencer Scott Willison, and Lyman M. Drake, Jr., of Wilmette.

Mr. Rice and his bride are sailing Saturday, April 28, from New York on a two months' trip abroad and will be at home after August 1, at 912 Judson avenue, Evanston.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Laura Kimball of Brookline, Mass., Mrs. Stephen Little of Princeton, N. J., and Miss Eleanor Hard of Washington, D. C.
