

Announce Big Increase in Suburban Railroad Traffic

The growth of Chicago's suburban communities is exemplified by the tremendous suburban traffic in and out of the Chicago and North Western terminal during the month of March, just announced by the passenger traffic department. During that time 1,829,725 suburbanites traveled to and from their homes on the North Western suburban trains, according to C. A. Cairns, passenger traffic manager. Suburban traffic increased 51,490 passengers for the month of March of this year as compared with the corresponding period in 1927.

Mrs. H. U. Nelson's Play to Be Staged on Campus

"The Knot," a three-act romantic drama written in the play-writing classes of the Town and Gown project by Marion Lawrence Nelson (Mrs. Herbert U. Nelson), will be presented at the School of Speech, Northwestern university, May 29, 30 and 31 and June 1.

The play will be presented by a cast of players from Evanston and the North Shore towns with Jean Burns of Evanston carrying the lead and Miss Dorothy Pickard of Evanston as ingenue, and Mrs. Chorpenning of the School of Speech will direct it. It has been highly praised by those interested in the activities of the Town and Gown project. Mrs. Nelson is author of "Spirals," a one-act play given successfully some months ago at the School of Speech as a part of the joint project of its organization and that of the Drama club of Evanston. The play has subsequently been published by Samuel French.

Tuesday evening, May 29, the play will be produced for the students at the School of Speech. Wednesday and Thursday it will be given for the North Shore Theater guild, and Thursday for criticism of Playshop members.

Mrs. Nelson removed recently from Evanston to 373 Sunset road, Winnetka.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the paper an error was made in announcing the meeting day of the North Shore Congregation Israel Sisterhood as each Wednesday morning during the summer. The Sisterhood will meet on the third Wednesday of the month during the summer to sew for charity and to make a few articles for the Temple. The meeting this month will be on Wednesday, May 16.

The vogue of the course dictates the course of the vogue

EACH morning the foliage on tree and bush seems more luxuriant than the day before—and the grass awakens greener in the warm May sun to hint that nearby fairways are in the prime of condition.

There's a hint, too, that the wardrobe of the Modern Miss or Woman is not quite complete without at least one pair of these correct Sport Oxfords from the shop of Pool & Piper.

Just ask to try them on. So comfortable—so light and flexible! Modish combinations of leathers. And one-and-a-quarter-inch heels to tread the most perfect greens without a mental hazard!
