"Alias the Deacon" Next Community House Offering

For Tuesday and Friday of the coming week Winnetka Community House offers "Alias the Deacon" and "Across the Atlantic."

Jean Hersholt, June Marlowe and Ralph Graves are featured in "Alias the Deacon," which is adapted from the stage play by the same name and is a good show. Jean Hersholt is outstanding as the psalm singing card shark. You'll like it.

"Across the Atlantic" is a Monte Blue picture. Monte plays the role of the wounded wartime ace who is believed to be dead by his father, brother and sweetheart.

His folks go to France to visit the place from which he last wrote. He wanders away from the hospital to his father's airplane factory. He takes a plane and crashes and his apparently delirious talk causes him to be again

Latest Jannings Film at McVicker's May 14

Emil Jannings has proved again that art need not be beautiful. And he has shown also that realism, stark and powerful, is his forte on the screen, realism with a grim, human quality that burns into the mind.

This time it is "The Street of Sin," more than a worthy successor to his first American production, "The Way of All Flesh," which created a place for the tragic screen drama in a land given over to happy endings.

Replete with heart shock, fine irony and pathos, this Paramount picture will follow Lon Chaney's "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," at McVicker's theater starting Monday, May 14.

Jannings stalks through the rabble of the London slums like a conqueror in corduroy. The streets of Limehouse obey the threat of his fists and women love him despite his brutality. It is essentially a story of regeneration, but wrought differently than ever before on the screen. His reformation, brought about by Fay Wray, who plays a Salvation Army lass, is vivid because it is truthful. His purpose in "playing good" is dire in the beginning, but turns to retribution and he finds himself vainly in love.

Miss Wray and Madame Baklanova, the latter a celebrated Russian actress from the Moscow Art theater, give splendid performances. Maurice Stiller directed the picture from a story written by Josef von Sternberg and Benjamin Glazer, baring the heart of squalid Limehouse.
