Discover New Case of Rabies in Kenilworth

Enforcement of the new ordinance making it rigidly compulsory for all dogs running at large in the Village of Kenilworth to be muzzled was given new impetus this week when an animal, preliminary examination of which revealed distinct indications of rabies, was captured. The dog has been placed under the care of a veterenarian for observation and dispo-sition in case it is proven that it is suffering from the disease.

Since the inauguration of the or-dinance in the Village conditions have shown a decided improvement, it is declared, dogs of all types having largely disappeared from the streets and those still remaining at large for the most part being equipped with the proper type of muzzle. Those that are still at large in violation of the or-dinance are being picked up and the owners notified, and, in case they are unclaimed, disposed of.

THREE ACT PLAY

"The Boughten Bridegroom," a play in three acts written by Mrs. Charlotte Chorpenning of the faculty of the School of Speech, Northwestern uni-versity, is having production this week at the theater there. It is a Scotch play and was given Wednesday eve-ning for students and will be repeated for them tomorrow evening. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings it was pre-sented for the Theater guild and play-writing classes of the Drama club.
