Draft of New Code for Winnetka Now Being Considered

The first draft of the new municipal code which has been in course of preparation for several weeks, by Thomas A. Mathews, attorney for the Illinois Municipal league, has been received by the Village.

At the meeting of the Village council Tuesday evening, the document was referred to Village Attorney Frederick Dickinson and Trustee William B. Moulton, chairman of the Judiciary committee, for consideration, with the exception, it is said, that it will be introduced for passage at the next meeting of the council.

The new code will contain a number of new ordinances, in order to meet present day conditions, including a complete new building and plumbing ordinance; a revised traffic ordinance; ordinances regulating the storage and use of inflammable liquids, and the installation of oil burning equipment.

After passage, the code will be printed for distribution.

The Village code was last revised and printed in 1915.

Business Property Owners Would Aid Test of Zoning Law

The Winnetka Business Property Owners' association, organized several months ago during the controversy resulting in the amendment of the Village Zoning ordinance relative to buildings in "C" Commercial zoned area, is making a permanent organization of the association, it is said, and preparing to extend financial and other aid to whosoever desires to test the amended ordinance.

That such an opportunity may come soon, is said to be quite probable, but until that time, the association, at its meeting Friday evening of last week, decided to dismiss any other plans of operation.

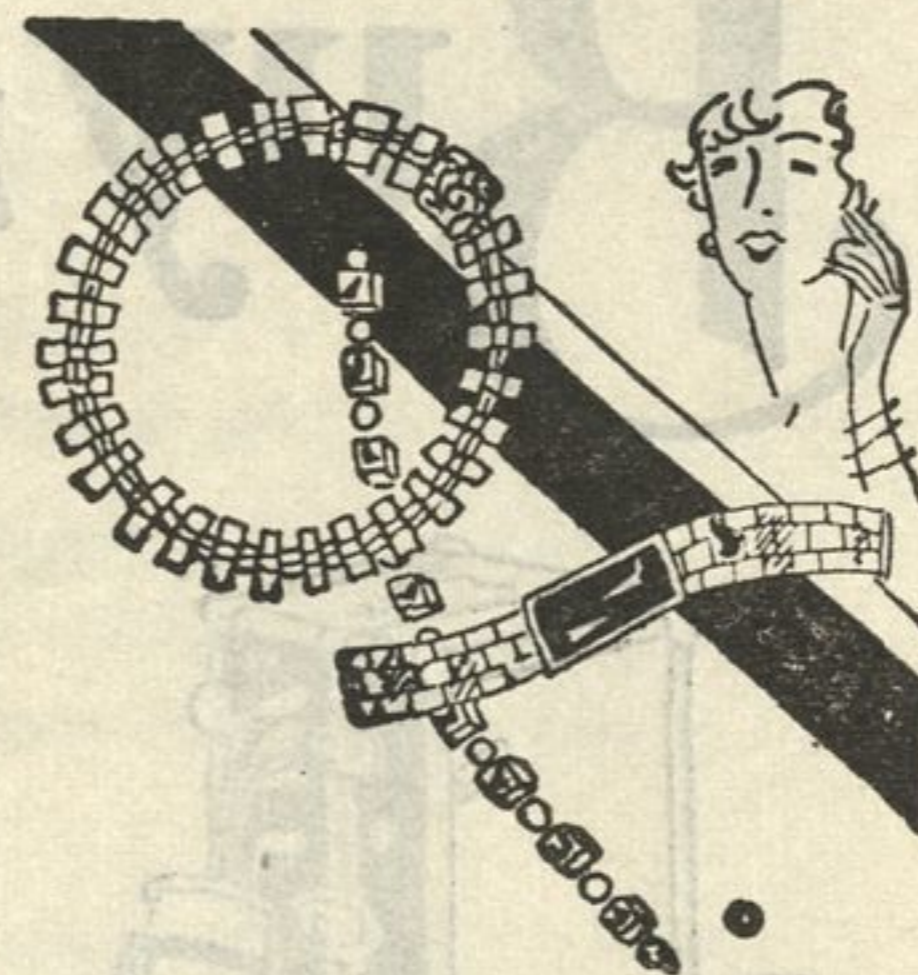

The new ordinance provides that buildings, henceforth, erected in "C" Commercial areas, shall be on a basis of only 36 families per acre, as against 72, the former provision of the ordinance.

Business property owners felt the change was too drastic, and termed it "confiscatory in its nature."

Plans for a building exceeding the provisions of the amended ordinance are said to be under way by an individual who, upon refusal of a permit for its erection, by the village, may proceed with court action, to test the ordinance, in which event the association, it is said, stands ready to extend financial and other aid, if desired.

Max Woldenberg of 1168 Asbury avenue, Hubbard Woods, who has spent the past few weeks in Chicago, until the return of his family, returned to his home last Thursday, May 14. Mr. Woldenberg's family, after spending the winter in Phoenix, Ariz., returned to Hubbard Woods at that time.
