

QUARTET IN PROGRAM

The North Park college male quartet is to give a musical program at the Christian Fellowship church Wednesday evening, May 30. Herbert Noren and Ruth Larson, violinists, will be assisting soloists.

North Shore People Have Part in Moose Convention

A civic meeting at the Auditorium theater, Chicago, Sunday evening, June 3, will mark the opening of the four-day program of the fortieth annual Chicago Mooseheart International convention of the Loyal Order of Moose.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor and director general of the order, will be the main speaker at the civic meeting. Delegates to the convention will be officially welcomed by Mayor William Hale Thompson and Rufus C. Dawes, chairman of the Chicago World's Fair committee. William F. Broening, mayor of Baltimore, and Edward J. Henning, past supreme dictator, will respond. The musical program includes vocal selections by Marie Sidenius Zendt, famed soprano of Wilmette, and Master Henry Swengber, Mount Carmel high school student.

Among those who hold chairmanships on the convention committees are: W. Lee Provol, executive chairman, Thomas M. Howell, Dr. William E. Buehler of Glencoe, Brigadier General Edward H. White, E. A. Rauch, Adolph A. Herr, Barney Cohen and Henry J. G. Schmidt. Edgar O. Eakin is chairman of the Chicago Civic committee.

The North Shore alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta met for luncheon and bridge at the home of Mrs. Carl Van Sinden, 1320 Ashland avenue, Wilmette, last Monday afternoon.

Invention Brings Village Reputation for Manufacturing

To be listed among the many virtues of which Kenilworth may boast as a village is one that hitherto has not been listed—that of being a manufacturing community.

Golf followers of the village will feel particularly gratified to learn that the product of the community's newest enterprise fills a long felt need among would-be sportsmen in that field.

It is known as "Headown" and has been patented under the laws of the United States. It is now on the market at a nominal sum and, it is reported, is already finding favor among golf enthusiasts who have not as yet achieved all of the proficiency of the expert.

When Richard Wolfe, Kenilworth trustee, was bitten severely by the "Golf Bug" some time ago and began to take his game seriously, he found himself handicapped by an inability to keep his head down while driving.

Mr. Wolfe enjoyed a rather distinct embarrassment over this apparently uncontrollable error in technique and pondered deeply and at length by long and devious process of reasoning, arriving finally at certain conclusions which he proceeded to convert into a corrective system for his wayward neck muscles.

Shortly thereafter he appeared upon the golf course smiling complacently and, whenever about to swing a club, wearing immediately below his chin a small circular rubber object.

His friends waxed curious, translated this curiosity into questions and learned that it was a "Headown." The idea pleased them and at their insistence Mr. Wolfe transcribed his idea into commercial form.
