"Nice Evening," Says Sam to Ed; "Almost Spanish," Adds Ed

Mr. Sam Meyers, the manager of Teatro del Lago, met Mr. Ed Crush, our advertising man, at the door of the theater the other night and remarked that it was a nice evening.

Mr. Crush (who heard about Spain over the radio and completed his education at a movie travelogue concerning the country) replied that it was almost a Spanish evening and (looking over the full house that was evidently according to Mr. Meyers a "large evening") remarked that the public was enjoying the Spanish evening at a Spanish theater.

Not having even had the opportunity to see a Spanish scene on an advertising poster, I can't enlarge on their conversation very much. However, if I were in Spain the evenings are exactly as I would like Spanish evenings to be, not to mention the theater.

But to return to movies: Teatro has lined up quite a nice program for the coming two weeks upon which I can and will proceed to enlarge.

"A Night of Mystery" will conclude this week. Adolphe Menjou takes the leading role in the opus, which is one of the best vehicles he has had. Evelyn Brent, Nora Lane, and William Collier, Jr., are among the supporting cast. The picture is based on Sardou's French play, "Captain Ferreol."

This Sunday Charlie Chaplin's "The Circus," will offer a three ring attraction. Produced with Charlie's extreme care, it represents one of the best pictures ever screened and will delight Ma, Pa and all of the kids.

"Love Me and the World Is Mine" will be featured Monday and Tuesday. It's a story of war time Vienna with a Daddy Browning romance between Mary Philbin and Henry B. Walthall. Betty Compson is the big thing in the show.

W. C. Fields is a crook who understands that men handle the investments and women handle the men in "Fools for Luck." Chester Conklin knows he's a crook but can't figure how to convince his wife and daughter. He doesn't need to. Wednesday.

Concerning "The Smart Set" let me whisper that it is about the best of William Haines' smart-aleck films and is sure to please. His smartness rather irritates but the pix is original and one you'll enjoy.

"Burning Daylight," a Milton Sills picture of excellent quality, is scheduled for Saturday, June 2. "The Legion of the Condemned," "The Big City," "My Best Girl" and "Across to Singapore" will be among next week's films.

William Haines Deserts Usual Smart-Aleck Role

Cyril Chadwick, famous British actor, is appearing with William Haines in "Excess Baggage," adapted from the famous stage play of that name, and directed by James Cruze, director of "The Covered Wagon."

SUFFERS LEAD POISONING

John Gilbert, motion picture actor, as you doubtless know, was removed on May 22 to his home suffering from lead poisoning. The poison was contracted from his makeup, it was said.

C. Nagel Selected for Role in "War in Dark"

With the selection of Conrad Nagel for the masculine lead in "War in the Dark," Greta Garbo's new film, preparations have been completed for the production of this story of European intrigue.

An Associated Press dispatch to metropolitan papers this week carried an account of a costly fire which swept the Fox Film studio at Hollywood, causing damage to the extent of about $200,000. Hollywood's entire fire fighting reserve was called into action before the blaze was brought under control.

Walter Butler, an English actor, has been engaged to appear opposite Vilma Banky in her future films. Mr. Butler will be seen under the film name, Byron. It is thus rather clearly outlined that Vilma will not appear opposite her husband, Rod La Rocque.

Pathe will star or feature Jacqueline Logan, Allen Hale, William Boyd, Phyllis Haver, and Victor Varconi in future films. Boyd is being loaned to United Artists to appear opposite Lupe Velez in "La Paiva."

"Heart of Maryland" at Community House Tuesday

The Winnetka Community House offers "The Heart of Maryland" and "Sporting Goods" for the coming week's program.

A piano prologue for the "Heart of Maryland" will be presented by Miss Margaret Hubsch. The picture, which is being presented on Tuesday, is a Dolores Costello opus and offers splendid entertainment.

Richard Dix takes the lead in "Sporting Goods" as an enterprising golf equipment salesman. Richard is "up with the lark, down with the grapefruit and out with the samples." Trouble dogs his steps, however, and you'll enjoy this farce from start to finish.

Flash, Dog Marvel, Appears in "Deadline"

"Flash," wonder dog, is making his second screen appearance in "The Deadline." Louise Lorraine and Lawrence Gray have the leading roles.

Lilli Damiti, the blonde Parisian actress engaged by Samuel Goldwyn during his recent trip abroad, will play opposite Ronald Colman in his next film.

Cecil B. De Mille will continue to produce and release through Pathe, at least until fall, it is reported.

More than $18,000,000 was invested during 1927 in new industries in Illinois, outside of Chicago.
