LOVE YOUR DOGGIE? KEEP HIM MUZZLED!

Our Police Are Now Engaged in an Intensive Campaign to Clear Streets of Canines

If you love your dog, put a muzzle on him, or exercise the alternative of keeping him at home and at the far end of a substantial leash whenever you take him for a stroll.

This kindly though pertinent advice is in direct consequence of an order in compliance with which our able police department is busily engaged in coralling all unmuzzled canines romping at large in the community, placing them none too gently in the municipal pound, whence, if unclaimed pronto at the cost of $2 (impounding fee), hied briskly to the executioner's box.

And what is more—

License Fees Overdue

The current year's dog license fees are overdue. Hence, in the event your pet has run afoul of our constabulary, and you have not taken the precaution to purchase the cute little brass tag, it'll be another $2 contribution.

The Police department last Monday morning, with the aid of "Prof" Paynter, address, Chicago, who rates as an expert dog catcher, began the business of clearing Winnetka streets of dogs that were not wearing muzzles, as required by the recent proclamation issued by President Henry F. Tenney.

At the end of the second day the professor et. al. had fifteen canines of plain and fancy contour in the pound, only three of which bore the late model license emblem.

Find Rabies Case

One of the animals picked up was found to be suffering from rabies, of which ailment it died the next day.

The village is being patrolled by the official dog catcher, armed with a wire snare, with which he is most adept in "picking up" any stray canine which he sights.

These trips are being made throughout the day, in a police squad car. Officer Harold Lewis drove the car the first day, since which time Officer J. H. Luensman has been assigned as pilot.

The first fifteen dogs brought in comprise two mongrels, two chows, two bulls, one collie, one poodle, three airedales, one Pekingese, one spaniel, one setter, and one police dog.

Thus it will be noted the police are play "no favorites."

All Look Alike Now

All dogs look alike to them.

The dainty, refined, perfumed little pekingese is accorded the same treatment as his big, burly, unkempt running mate, the "mongrel."

One dog may develop a case of rabies as quickly as another.

Again, the Police warn, "if you love your dog, either keep him at home or put a good, secure muzzle on him, for the campaign is on, in full swing, and it's going to continue, indefinitely."

Recitalist

Albert S. Spalding, internationally famous violinist, who calls Chicago his home, will present the third program of the Winnetka Music club's Artist-Recital series at New Trier auditorium next season. Mr. Spalding appeared in the Music club series a few years ago. He is not only pre-eminent as a violinist, but also exemplifies the finest type of American citizenship. He needs no further introduction to music patrons of the north shore.

Winnetkans Gather in Tribute to War Heroes

Annual Memorial day observance was conducted at the Village Common at 2:30 o'clock, Wednesday, where hundreds of citizens gathered about the War Memorial to hear and witness the impressive ceremonies in special tribute to Winnetka's Soldier dead.

Winnetka Post No. 10, American Legion, was in charge of the services, Max Murdock presiding as chairman.

Judge Frank Comeford, of Chicago, delivered the address.

Cars Crash on Drive; Occupants Uninjured

Two automobiles were damaged but the drivers escaped injury, Monday afternoon, when the cars collided at Sheridan road and Garland place. William Wolfer, of 3805 Seventy-second street, Chicago, was one of the drivers and Stockton Pemberton, of 1937 Hartrey street, Evanston, was the other, according to the report of Officer Carl F. Bishop.

DIAMOND DATES

The Winnetka Baseball team has games scheduled for the next five Sundays, at Playfield with the following teams:

June 3—South Side Sportsmen.

June 10—Waukegan K. of L.

June 17—North Chicago A. C.

June 24—Waukegan All Nations.

July 1—Chicago North Shore.

Northfield May Get Water from Winnetka Plant

The next important step in the development of the new Village of Northfield, Winnetka's neighbor across the Skokie to the west, is that of obtaining water, which, eventually, it is hoped to arrange for with Winnetka.

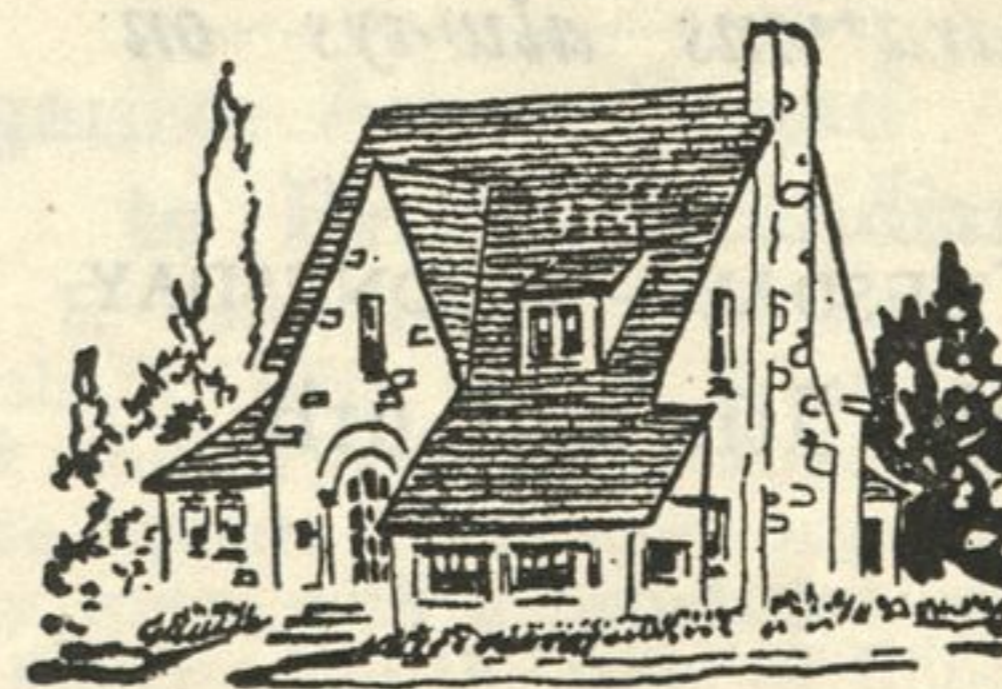

Glencoe is now being supplied with water from its own new plant, and is negotiating with Northbrook to furnishing that village with lake water.

Winnetka, which formerly supplied Glencoe, will now be in a position to supply water to Northfield it is thought and plans are, accordingly going forward.

At the last meeting of the Northfield village board, Village Engineer Edward Hancock was instructed to make a survey to establish the necessary levels for water mains, etc., and a little later, it is said, Northfield will proceed further with negotiations with Winnetka to pump water to the western community.

Voters' League Directors Lay Plans for Next Year

Mrs. A. Montague Ferry, president of the Winnetka League of Women Voters, entertained the members of the board of directors at luncheon last week. Plans for the league year, which opens in October, were discussed and a talk by Mrs. John N. VanderVries on "How the League Program for Study and Legislation is Made," was followed by a discussion of the various new items adopted at the recent national convention. Mrs. William F. Brown, first vice-president and chairman of the organization, has appointed Mrs. Howard Kennington, 508 Hawthorne lane, as chairman of the eleventh precinct to fill the place of Mrs. Earl Green, who is leaving Winnetka.

WINNETKANS ATTEND BIG CHURCH SESSION

Ministers and Laymen of Congregational Church Participate in Seminary Program

North Shore residents will be well represented in the twenty-fourth triennial convention and dedication week exercises which begin Sunday, June 3, continuing throughout the Chicago Theological seminary.

Delegates from the Congregational conferences of sixteen midwest states will be present for the convention June 5, 6 and 7.

Dedicate New Buildings

Additions to the group of seminary buildings to be dedicated are the Victor Fremont Lawson, Graham Taylor hall, Henry M. Hooker hall and Clarence Sidney Funk cloisters.

North shore people who will participate in the program are:

John R. Montgomery of Winnetka, chairman of the seminary board of directors, who will preside at many of the functions; Charles H. Dennis of Evanston, editor of the Chicago Daily News, who will speak at the dedication of Lawson tower; Dr. Hugh Elmer Brown, pastor of the First Congregational church of Evanston, who is a member of the seminary advisory board; Dr. Harris Franklin Rall, of the Garrett Biblical institute faculty, who will deliver an address at the seminary reception and banquet in the Palmer house Thursday evening.

Local Ministers Have Part

The Rev. James A. Richards, minister of the Winnetka Congregational church, will preach the sermon at the baccalaureate services to be held Sunday afternoon. Dr. J. W. F. Davies, minister of education of the same church, will speak at the dedication of Graham Taylor hall, Thursday afternoon.

Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9, the seminary buildings will be open for the inspection of visitors. Many Congregational churches of the Chicago metropolitan area are planning inspection trips.

Hold Hearing on Locust Road Improvement June 5

An informal public hearing on the proposed resurfacing of Locust road between Pine and Oak streets will be held by the Board of Local Improvements, Tuesday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock.

The work, it is announced is to be done by special tax with a considerable portion of the cost borne by the general fund of the village.

The proposed work will include the removal of the existing asphalt top, which is badly depreciated; repairing the concrete base and adding a three-inch bituminous wearing surface and covering with a double seal coat of tarvia and gravel.

The total estimated cost of the improvement is $1.50 per front foot, of which amount, $1.10 per front foot it is proposed to pay from the vehicle tax and other revenues.

The Board requests the attendance of all interested property owners.
